SEEKING FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Gettysburg's Memorial Day committee will begin its annual campaign for funds next week, with the hope that it can raise enough money for this year's program and pay off $124.41 debt from last year's event.

While the program last year with the then Vice President of the United States as speaker was a success in all other phases, it proved a financial reverse for the committee.

The largest attendance in years was recorded last May when President Lyndon B. Johnson delivered what became quoted nationwide as a major speech on civil rights. There were more bands, more paraders and more everything than in years—with one exception.

FEWER DONATIONS

The number of donors to the annual campaign for funds to pay for the program dropped. Only two local museums gave donations and only one of the motel-hotel group. Downtown stores, "which weren't even open on Memorial Day" and individuals provided the bulk of the donations.

The committee has to pay the expenses of participating bands, the cost of loud speakers, provides a meal for mounted state police and for special military band members and special military units, such as the Third Infantry, here for the day and for whom there is no other expense and provides a luncheon for the speaker and his guests, and the participants in the rostrum program. Committee members attending the luncheon pay for their own meals.

Cost of the Memorial Day events usually ranges from $300 to $500. Friday night the treasurer reported a balance of $4.59 in the treasury and with a bill of $127 from last year yet to be paid.

MAKE PARADE PLANS

This year's Memorial Day parade will start from two sites at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 30, it was decided Friday night. Both the children's division starting from the Gettysburg Senior High School area and the main portion of the parade beginning at Meade school

Lady Astor Dies At Age Of 84; Plan Two Memorial Services; Private Burial

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON (AP)—Nancy, Lady Astor, the Virginia belle who despised liquor, but loved politics so much she became the first woman to sit in Britain's Parliament, died today. She would have been 85 on May 19.

The woman whose acid wit riled countless Britons and delighted countless others during her quarter of a century in Parliament died at Grimsthorpe Castle, the Lincolnshire home of her daughter, Lady Ancestre, northeast of London.

The exact nature of her illness was not disclosed, but a member of her household said: "This is not a sudden thing. It is just old age."

"The situation has been the same for many weeks," said her son, Viscount Astor.

PRIVATE BURIED

The once controversial figure had withdrawn from the public eye since her appearance on a television interview 18 months ago.

Lady Astor will be buried privately in the chapel of the Astor home at Cliveden in Buckinghamshire. Cliveden had been the scene of many gatherings, social and political, of leaders in the British aristocracy and others in the years preceding World War II.

Memorial services will be held in London and Plymouth. Dates have yet to be announced.

Lady Astor, who was known affectionately in Parliament as Nancy, took her seat in the House of Commons as representative of the Sutton division of Plymouth in 1919. She served until 1945.

HAD PET CAUSES

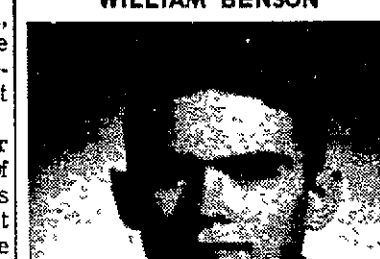

Sharp-tongued and witty, Lady Astor cherished a number of pet causes. On no subject was she so outspoken as on abstinence

PAYS $1,558 ON GAME LAW VIOLATIONS

Harold E. Sheely, 29, 1621 Bair Ave. Ext., Hanover, has paid what is believed to be the largest fine ever paid in Adams County for game law violations. Game Protector Homer Thrush reported today.

Sheely Thursday turned over to Justice of the Peace Kathryn F. Geiman, Littlestown R. 2, a check for $1,558 representing fines and costs on various charges against him in Union Twp.

Sheely appeared before the justice for a hearing April 26 and at that time had three choices before him: he could appeal the cases to the Adams County court within 10 days; he could pay the fine, or he could go to jail for 1,558 days.

Thrush said that several days later Sheely agreed to pay the fine and was given until May 1 to raise the money.

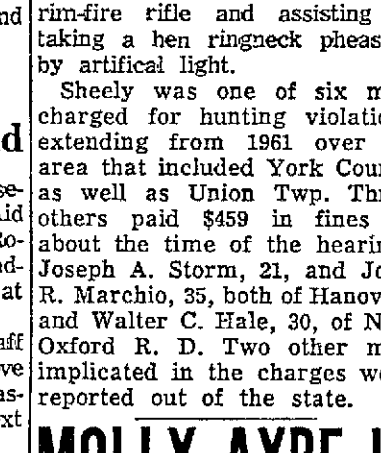

THREE OTHERS FINED

The amount paid did not cover all the possible charges against him, according to the game protector at the time of the hearing. There were 39 offenses listed against Sheely originally as the result of investigations extending back to 1961, but about 30 were dropped.

Charges in Union Twp. included attempting to kill a doe in closed season, attempting to kill a doe with the aid of spotlight, attempting to kill two does by using a .22 caliber rim-fire weapon; attempting to kill a male deer in closed season, assisting in concealing a doe killed in closed season, attempting to kill a male deer with a .22 caliber rim-fire rifle and assisting in taking a hen ringneck pheasant by artificial light.

Sheely was one of six men charged for hunting violations extending from 1961 over an area that included York County as well as Union Twp. Three others paid $459 in fines at about the time of the hearing: Joseph A. Storm, 21, and John R. Marchio, 35, both of Hanover, and Walter C. Hale, 30, of New Oxford R. D. Two other men implicated in the charges were reported out of the state.

VISITATION IS DOWN 65,854

Chief Ranger John Rogers, of the National Park Service, reported today that 146,701 people visited the battlefield during April. This was 65,854 less than the corresponding month a year ago, when 212,551 visited here.

This brings the total for 1964 to 279,347, as compared with 331,281 for the first four months of last year, a drop in visitation of 51,934.

"April showers, overcast skies and generally disagreeable weather," Rogers said, "as well as an early Easter, contributed to the decline in visitors to Gettysburg. Nevertheless I expect this year we will equal, if not surpass, the record two million visitors here in 1963."

During the month there were 236 buses, 1493 Boy Scouts camped on Pardee Field, 102 horseback riders, and 23,670 in the Visitor Center.

Mountain Echo Is Given High Rating

The Associated Collegiate Press has judged the "Mountain Echo," collegian newspaper at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, as "first class" for 1963-1964. Each semester for the past six years the paper has received this rating.

The Echo scored 250 points above the minimum 3,100 points needed for this honor which is comparable to "excellent."

Communists Sink Aircraft Carrier In Saigon Harbor

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The USS Card, heroic World War II aircraft carrier credited with sinking seven Nazi U-boats, was sunk by a Communist bomb in Saigon harbor today.

All 73 crewmen escaped injury when a Viet Cong terrorist underwater mine blasted a hole in the ship, sending her down with only her flight deck and superstructure remaining above water.

It was the first loss of an important U.S. naval vessel in the Viet Nam war against Communist guerrillas and the first sinking of a large American warship in hostilities since World War II.

AIRCRAFT FERRY

U.S. demolition experts believe the Viet Cong swam or crawled under a wharf where the Card was docked at low tide in the 48-foot-deep Saigon River, attached the explosive to the ship and detonated it electrically.

Her days of glory past and dwarfed by giant carriers, the Card was assigned to the U.S. Military Sea Transportation Service and classified by the Navy as an aircraft ferry. Though a naval vessel, she is manned by civilians.

In World War II, the Card won a Presidential Unit Citation for sinking seven U-boats in the Atlantic in 1943. She acted in concert with the destroyers Borie, Goff and Barry and together they were believed to have sent a dozen or more submarines to the bottom, the most in naval history.

ACTED AS DECOY

The four-vessel team escorted troop convoys and freighters across the submarine-infested Atlantic, the Card often acting as a decoy to trap U-boats in a web of depth charges laid by

First-place winners in three other similar competitions, based upon the size of the communities involved, were also announced. "Campaign Gettysburg" was then listed as the grand champion, being chosen as the best in the state from the four winners in the competitions based on the population of the competing towns.

President Merck said "Campaign Gettysburg" thus became "the outstanding project among possibly 4,000 carried out by Jaycee units throughout the state."

Gettysburg Jaycees also won first place in a community development competition, based on a number of projects, for communities under 25,000 in population. Altoona, which won first place in the competition among cities over 25,000 in population, was announced as the "Sweepstakes" winner.

SEEKING FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Gettysburg's Memorial Day committee will begin its annual campaign for funds next week, with the hope that it can raise enough money for this year's program and pay off $122.41 debt from last year's event.

While the program last year with the then Vice President of the United States as speaker was a success in all other phases, it proved a financial reverse for the committee.

The largest attendance in years was recorded last May when President Lyndon B. Johnson delivered what became quoted nationwide as a major speech on civil rights. There were more bands, more paraders and more everything than in years—with one exception.

FEWER DONATIONS

The number of donors to the annual campaign for funds to pay for the program dropped. Only two local museums gave donations and only one of the motel-hotel group. Downtown stores, "which weren't even open on Memorial Day" and individuals provided the bulk of the donations. The committee has to pay the expenses of participating bands, the cost of loud speakers, provides a meal for mounted state police and for special military band members and special military units, such as the Third Infantry, here for the day and for whom there is no other expense and provides a luncheon for the speaker and his guests, and the participants in the rostrum program. Committee members attending the luncheon pay for their own meals.

Cost of the Memorial Day events usually ranges from $300 to $500. Friday night the treasurer reported a balance of $4.59 in the treasury and with a bill of $127 from last year yet to be paid.

MAKE PARADE PLANS

This year's Memorial Day parade will start from two sites at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 30, it was decided Friday night. Both the children's division starting from the Gettysburg Senior High School area and the main portion of the parade beginning at Meade school (Continued On Page 2)

Lady Astor Dies At Age Of 84; Plan Two Memorial Services; Private Burial

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP)—Nancy, Lady Astor, the Virginia belle who despised liquor, but loved politics so much she became the first woman to sit in Britain's Parliament, died today. She would have been 85 on May 19. The woman whose acid wit riled countless Britons and delighted countless others during her quarter of a century in Parliament died at Grimsthorpe Castle, the Lincolnshire home of her daughter, Lady Ancestor, northeast of London.

The exact nature of her illness was not disclosed, but a member of her household said: "This is not a sudden thing. It is just old age."

"The situation has been the same for many weeks," said her son, Viscount Astor.

The once controversial figure had withdrawn from the public eye since her appearance on a

PAYS $1,558 ON GAME LAW VIOLATIONS

Harold E. Sheely, 29, 1621 Bair Ave. Ext., Hanover, has paid what is believed to be the largest fine ever paid in Adams County for game law violations. Game Protector Homer Thrush reported today.

Sheely Thursday turned over to Justice of the Peace Kathryn F. Geiman, Littlestown R. 2, a check for $1,558 representing fines and costs on various charges against him in Union Twp.

Sheely appeared before the justice for a hearing April 26 and at that time had three choices before him: he could appeal the cases to the Adams County court within 10 days; he could pay the fine, or he could go to jail for 1,558 days.

Thrush said that several days later Sheely agreed to pay the fine and was given until May 1 to raise the money.

THREE OTHERS FINED

The amount paid did not cover all the possible charges against him, according to the game protector at the time of the hearing. There were 39 offenses listed against Sheely originally as the result of investigations extending back to 1961, but about 30 were dropped.

Charges in Union Twp. included attempting to kill a doe in closed season, attempting to kill a doe with the aid of spotlight, attempting to kill two does by using a .22 caliber rim-fire weapon; attempting to kill a male deer in closed season, assisting in concealing a doe killed in closed season, attempting to kill a male deer with a .22 caliber rim-fire rifle and assisting in taking a hen ringneck pheasant by artificial light.

Sheely was one of six men charged for hunting violations extending from 1961 over an area that included York County as well as Union Twp. Three others paid $459 in fines at about the time of the hearing: Joseph A. Storm, 21, and John R. Marchio, 35, both of Hanover, and Walter C. Hale, 30, of New Oxford R. D. Two other men implicated in the charges were reported out of the state.

MOLLY AYRE IS SCHOOL EDITOR

The 1964-1965 Maroon and White staff was recently appointed with 14 junior journalists to head the new staff, according to Mrs. Margaret Deitz, advisor of the Gettysburg Senior High School newspaper.

The newly-appointed news editors are Nancy Murdock, David Rice, Susan Swope and Jennifer Weaver. They hold the positions formerly filled by Gary Hartman, Kay Newman, John Teeter and Russel Tharp.

Carolyn Musselman and Susan Musser are the new feature editors replacing Linda Rinehart and Robert Deitz. Ellen Johnson and Larry Kepner assume the posts of Barbara Hay and Gilbert Kujovich as sports editors.

William Lane follows John Tawney as photographer, and Ronald Reaves relinquishes his position as artist to Linda Simpson.

The new reporters include Lucinda Deitch, Linda Hofe, Sheryl Jackson, Nancy Johnson, Pamela Kane, James Logan, Besse Moorehead, John Musselman, Linda Riley, Roann Schneider, Raymond Schwartz, Peggy Shealer, Carol Shelleman, William Starner, William Stodart and Charles Tressler.

Joyce Bowers and Phyllis Shue are the new typists.

Cancer Drive OverTheTop

With more returns yet to be reported, the Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society has already topped its goal after 19 days of intensive crusading. By Friday night $11,750.41 had been brought in. The goal was $11,500.

Elated with the success of the drive Mrs. H. David Pitzer, general chairman, said: "This is real teamwork. I attribute the achievement to all my coworkers, especially to Mrs. Earl E. Carey, Biglerville, and to the excellent publicity given us by The Gettysburg Times."

Chester Byers, Littlestown, working with business and industry, and W. Russell Schwartz, Gettysburg R. 2, in charge of clubs and organizations, have increased the amounts raised over last year.

Next week, Monday to Friday, will "Operation Cleanup." All outstanding money should be brought to the cancer society's office, Room 21, in the basement of the Warner Hospital between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Mrs. Pitzer said.

All captains who worked for the drive are invited to attend an awards night celebration on May 14 at 8 p.m. in the board room of the hospital. Captains unable to attend should send a representative.

VISITATION IS DOWN 65,854

Chief Ranger John Rogers, of the National Park Service, reported today that 146,701 people visited the battlefield during April. This was 65,854 less than the corresponding month a year ago, when 212,551 visited here.

This brings the total for 1964 to 279,347, as compared with 331,281 for the first four months of last year, a drop in visitation of 51,934.

"April showers, overcast skies and generally disagreeable weather," Rogers said, "as well as an early Easter, contributed to the decline in visitors to Gettysburg. Nevertheless I expect this year we will equal, if not surpass, the record two million visitors here in 1963."

During the month there were 836 buses, 1493 Boy Scouts camped on Pardee Field, 102 horseback riders, and 28,670 in the Visitor Center.

Mountain Echo Is Given High Rating

The Associated Collegiate Press has judged the "Mountain Echo," collegian newspaper at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, as "first class" for 1963-1964. Each semester for the past six years the paper has received this rating.

The Echo scored 250 points above the minimum 3,100 points needed for this honor which is comparable to "excellent."

The purpose of the rating is to indicate how a publication ranks relative to all other publications of colleges, issuing the same number of papers per semester, working under similar conditions, and having approximately the same number of students. In this way, the association attempts to evaluate the effectiveness of a particular paper in serving its campus.

Communists Sink Aircraft Carrier In Saigon Harbor

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The USS Card, heroic World War II aircraft carrier credited with sinking seven Nazi U-boats, was sunk by a Communist bomb in Saigon harbor today.

All 73 crewmen escaped injury when a Viet Cong terrorist underwater mine blasted a hole in the ship, sending her down with only her flight deck and superstructure remaining above water.

It was the first loss of an important U.S. naval vessel in the Viet Nam war against Communist guerrillas and the first sinking of a large American warship in hostilities since World War II.

AIRCRAFT FERRY

U.S. demolition experts believe the Viet Cong swam or crawled under a wharf where the Card was docked at low tide in the 48-foot-deep Saigon River, attached the explosive to the ship and detonated it electrically.

Her days of glory past and dwarfed by giant carriers, the Card was assigned to the U.S. Military Sea Transportation Service and classified by the Navy as an aircraft ferry. Though a naval vessel, she is manned by civilians.

In World War II, the Card won a Presidential Unit Citation for sinking seven U-boats in the Atlantic in 1943. She acted in concert with the destroyers Borie, Goff and Barry and together they were believed to have sent a dozen or more submarines to the bottom, the most in naval history.

ACTED AS DECOY

The four-vessel team escorted troop convoys and freighters across the submarine-infested Atlantic, the Card often acting as a decoy to trap U-boats in a web of depth charges laid by (Continued On Page 3)

JAYCEES WIN TOP PA. HONOR FOR "PROJECT GETTYSBURG"

Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has won the "Outstanding Project of the Year" award from the state Jaycees with its "Campaign Gettysburg."

The award was presented Friday evening at a banquet held as part of the convention of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce at York.

BEST IN STATE

"Campaign Gettysburg" was first announced as the first-place winner in competition among Jaycee chapters in communities whose population ranges from 7,000 to 15,000. First-place winners in three other similar competitions, based upon the size of the communities involved, were also announced. "Campaign Gettysburg" was then listed as the grand champion, being chosen as the best in the state from the four winners in the competitions based on the population of the competing towns.

President Merck said "Campaign Gettysburg" thus became "the outstanding project among possibly 4,000 carried out by Jaycee units throughout the state."

Gettysburg Jaycees also won first place in a community development competition, based on a number of projects, for communities under 25,000 in population. Altoona, which won first place in the competition among cities over 25,000 in population, was announced as the "Sweepstakes" winner.

KREMLIN CUTS CHINA MAY DAY AS RIFT GROWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Communist world held its annual May Day rites today with massive outpourings of people in Moscow and Peking and the usual tough talk about the invincibility of communism.

But the great schism between the Soviet Union and Red China cast its shadow over the gala celebrations. The Soviets refused to attend the Peking rally and withdrew an invitation to a Chinese labor delegation to view the annual parade in Moscow's Red Square.

JOIN BOYCOTT

East Germany, Bulgaria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia joined the Soviets in their boycott of the Peking festivities.

Many non-Communist countries also held May Day celebrations to honor their labor force. But there were few such activities in the United States, where labor's big holiday occurs in September.

The Soviet Union unveiled a new anti-aircraft twin rocket during a parade through Red Square in which tens of thousands of soldiers and workers marched. Western observers said the 20-foot rocket appeared to be for field use against planes at medium or low altitudes.

ALGERIAN GUEST

Standing by Premier Khrushchev atop Lenin's tomb, Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky warned that the Soviets are strong enough to smash any attacking imperialist state. Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella and an array of government officials and visitors were on the reviewing stand. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai told a reception for 1,300 foreign visitors on the eve of the big rally in Peking's main square that his country would win its quarrel with the Soviet Union and other Communist critics.

CHOU LASHES U.S.

Boasting of China's new strength, Chou also lashed out against the United States.

"A new upsurge has appeared in the struggle of the people of the whole world against the U.S. imperialist policies of aggression and war," he said. Chou urged the peoples of Asia and Latin America to rally together and said: "The united front against U.S. imperialism is steadily expanding and we shall unite ever more closely and continue for the victory of our common cause."

STALIN PORTRAIT

The giant square was decorated with huge portraits of Mao Tse-tung, Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin.

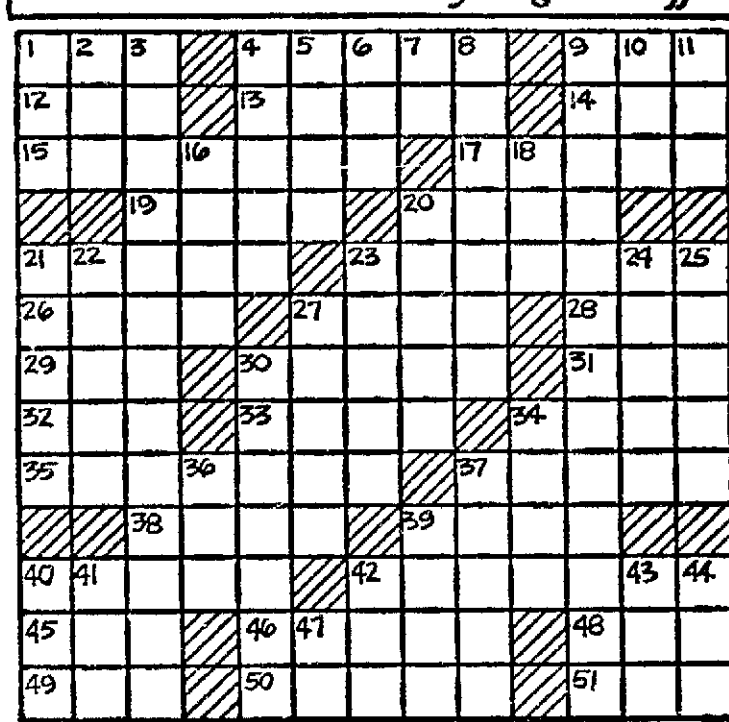

The East German Communists marked May Day with a massive military parade in East Berlin. About 300,000 West Berliners attended a trade union rally on their side of the wall. They heard speeches by Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

The theme of the Western rally was freedom, peace and German unity. The only marchers were unarmed trade unionists who converged on the square in five long columns.

Absent this year from the East German celebration were the threats against West Berlin that have been a feature of past May Days.

Nearly a fifth of the U.S. population one year and over moved between April 1961 and April 1962, according to the Census Bureau.

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador, says he doesn't want to be considered as a possible opponent for Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in the November election.

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the civil rights bill must be passed so the United States' voice will not be "muted by the hypocrisy of unreal pretensions." In a speech to the American Jewish Committee in New York, the secretary said "I know of no single step which Congress can take to establish more securely the safety and welfare of our nation than to pass the civil rights bill now before it."

CLARK SAYS MISS BLATT IS WINNER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says he doesn't think absentee ballots will upset the slim lead held by Miss Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, in the primary race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania.

Miss Blatt, with the support of Sen. Clark, opposed the state Democratic organization candidate, Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, in Tuesday's primary.

With only 10 precincts still missing and the absentee ballots not to be counted until next week, Miss Blatt leads 455,099 to 451,995 in unofficial returns.

"WON ON MERITS"

Clark, in an interview Thursday, said he thought "it was a terrific triumph, not for me, but for Genevieve. She won on her merits because she's a wonderful person," he said.

Clark said the three main issues which won for her were: Voters believed she would make a better senator than Musmanno; they believed she would make a better run against Republican incumbent Sen. Hugh R. Scott, renominated by Republicans for another term; and because "they didn't want the 'boss of Philadelphia' to take over the state Democratic nomination."

FAMILIAR PATTERN

He referred to Francis Smith, Philadelphia democratic chairman, who supported Musmanno in the primary.

Clark, in supporting Miss Blatt, got into heated debate with Musmanno during the primary campaign, but he doesn't think it will have any effect on the November election.

"We Democrats have a long history of beating each other's brains out in the spring and kissing and making up in the fall," he said. "This year will be no exception."

Miss Blatt, meanwhile, has not claimed victory, nor has Justice Musmanno conceded defeat.

A window of the fourth-floor hospital room was shattered by the wind, spraying broken glass and splinters of wood into the room.

Mrs. Jim Bulls, the nurse, threw herself over the Williams infant to shelter it. Denison tried to protect his patient.

"Then we found ourselves outside in the hallway," he said.

METHODISTS
INTEGRATION

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Hundreds of Methodist churchgoers from throughout the country staged a dramatic protest in downtown Pittsburgh today against their church's stand for voluntary, gradual integration, saying it was inadequate.

They poured into the city Friday night by bus, plane, train and car from as far away as Chicago, Detroit, Birmingham, Atlanta and Jackson, Miss.

An estimated 1,300 persons, white and Negro, many of them teen-agers, filled two downtown churches for an all-night vigil of prayers, sermons and hymn singing.

They started arriving just hours after the church's General Conference, meeting in its quadrennial session, adopted a voluntary plan to remove racial barriers.

CALLED INADEQUATE

The plan calls for transfer over the next four years of the church's Central Jurisdiction, which represents some 375,000 Negroes, into the five other jurisdictions which are drawn on geographical lines. No enforcement mechanism was provided.

The plan passed by an overwhelming standing vote. But many of the 900 delegates felt it does not go far enough or fast enough.

One minister called it "very definitely a Southern victory."

Ralph Roy, a layman from New York City, said the pilgrimage had been planned for several months.

"We are not so much protesting what they did," he said. "We are protesting the mood of the conference which was unwilling to move forthrightly for integration of the Methodist Church."

Immediately after Friday's vote some integrationists said they would push for a stronger program before the conference ends next Friday.

area will start simultaneously with the belief by the time the last of the anticipated more than 1,000 children have entered Baltimore St. from Wainwright Ave., the head of the remainder of the parade will have reached that point from Meade School.

The Gettysburg Senior High School band will lead the military division of the parade, providing marching music for 400 members of Pennsylvania's 29th Division who will be here as a special unit for the parade.

The school children will be led by the Gettysburg Junior High School Band.

CHANGES IN ROUTINE

For the review of a special 30-man U.S. Air Force Honor Guard and Drill Team on Lincoln Square prior to the parade, the senior high school band will also provide the music. Then the band and honor guard will proceed to Meade School to head the three divisions of the parade proceeding from that point.

When the review is ended, the speaker and other distinguished guests will move to Baltimore St. at Wainwright Ave. to review the entire parade, including the children.

For a number of years the children were halted near the National Cemetery and the parade then entered the cemetery past the children. This year the children will march directly into the cemetery at the head of the parade. It was believed his will make for easier handling of the parade and permit school officials more time to line up the youngsters prior to the placing of flowers on the graves.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS

Mayor William G. Weaver, secretary of the Memorial Day committee, said Rev. Merlin Shull and Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy have accepted invitations to give the invocation and benediction at the rostrum exercises.

Congressman George Goddard was chosen to introduce the speaker.

David Tawney reported arrangements complete for the public address system at the cemetery exercises.

He alleges that he was 18 at the time and was unaware of his rights under the law. SEEKING FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Gettysburg's Memorial Day committee will begin its annual campaign for funds next week, with the hope that it can raise enough money for this year's program and pay off $122.41 debt from last year's event.

While the program last year with the then Vice President of the United States as speaker was a success in all other phases, it proved a financial reverse for the committee.

The largest attendance in years was recorded last May when President Lyndon B. Johnson delivered what became quoted nationwide as a major speech on civil rights. There were more bands, more paraders and more everything than in years—with one exception.

FEWER DONATIONS

The number of donors to the annual campaign for funds to pay for the program dropped. Only two local museums gave donations and only one of the motel-hotel group. Downtown stores, "which weren't even open on Memorial Day" and individuals provided the bulk of the donations.

The committee has to pay the expenses of participating bands, the cost of loud speakers, provides a meal for mounted state police and for special military band members and special military units, such as the Third Infantry, here for the day and for whom there is no other expense and provides a luncheon for the speaker and his guests, and the participants in the rostrum program. Committee members attending the luncheon pay for their own meals.

Cost of the Memorial Day events usually ranges from $300 to $500. Friday night the treasurer reported a balance of $4.59 in the treasury and with a bill of $127 from last year yet to be paid.

MAKE PARADE PLANS

This year's Memorial Day parade will start from two sites at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 30, it was decided Friday night. Both the children's division starting from the Gettysburg Senior High School area and the main portion of the parade beginning at Meade school

PAYS $1,558 ON GAME LAW VIOLATIONS

Harold E. Sheely, 29, 1621 Bair Ave. Ext., Hanover, has paid what is believed to be the largest fine ever paid in Adams County for game law violations. Game Protector Homer Thrush reported today.

Sheely Thursday turned over to Justice of the Peace Kathryn F. Gelman, Littlestown R. 2, a check for $1,558 representing fines and costs on various charges against him in Union Twp.

Sheely appeared before the justice for a hearing April 26 and at that time had three choices before him: he could appeal the cases to the Adams County court within 10 days; he could pay the fine, or he could go to jail for 1,558 days.

Thrush said that several days later Sheely agreed to pay the fine and was given until May 1 to raise the money.

THREE OTHERS FINED

The amount paid did not cover all the possible charges against him, according to the game protector at the time of the hearing. There were 39 offenses listed against Sheely originally as the result of investigations extending back to 1961, but about 30 were dropped.

Charges in Union Twp. included attempting to kill a doe in closed season, attempting to kill a doe with the aid of spotlight, attempting to kill two does by using a .22 caliber rim-fire weapon; attempting to kill a male deer in closed season, assisting in concealing a doe killed in closed season, attempting to kill a male deer with a .22 caliber rim-fire rifle and assisting in taking a hen ringneck pheasant by artificial light.

Sheely was one of six men charged for hunting violations extending from 1961 over an area that included York County as well as Union Twp. Three others paid $459 in fines at about the time of the hearing: Joseph A. Storm, 21, and John R. Marchio, 35, both of Hanover, and Walter C. Hale, 30, of New Oxford R. D. Two other men implicated in the charges were reported out of the state.

VISITATION IS DOWN 65,854

Chief Ranger John Rogers, of the National Park Service, reported today that 146,701 people visited the battlefield during April. This was 65,854 less than the corresponding month a year ago, when 212,551 visited here.

This brings the total for 1964 to 279,347, as compared with 331,281 for the first four months of last year, a drop in visitation of 51,934.

"April showers, overcast skies and generally disagreeable weather," Rogers said, "as well as an early Easter, contributed to the decline in visitors to Gettysburg. Nevertheless I expect this year we will equal, if not surpass, the record two million visitors here in 1963."

During the month there were 836 buses, 1493 Boy Scouts camped on Pardee Field, 102 horseback riders, and 22,570 in the Visitor Center.

Mountain Echo Is Given High Rating

The Associated Collegiate Press has judged the "Mountain Echo," collegian newspaper at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, as "first class" for 1963-1964. Each semester for the past six years the paper has received this rating.

The Echo scored 250 points above the minimum 3,100 points needed for this honor which is comparable to "excellent."

The purpose of the rating is to indicate how a publication ranks relative to all other publications of colleges, issuing the same number of papers per semester, working under similar conditions, and having approximately the same number of students. In this way, the association attempts to evaluate the effectiveness of a particular paper in serving its campus.

Communists Sink Aircraft Carrier In Saigon Harbor

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The USS Card, heroic World War II aircraft carrier credited with sinking seven Nazi U-boats, was sunk by a Communist bomb in Saigon harbor today.

All 73 crewmen escaped injury when a Viet Cong terrorist underwater mine blasted a hole in the ship, sending her down with only her flight deck and superstructure remaining above water.

It was the first loss of an important U.S. naval vessel in the Viet Nam war against Communist guerrillas and the first sinking of a large American warship in hostilities since World War II.

AIRCRAFT FERRY

U.S. demolition experts believe the Viet Cong swam or crawled under a wharf where the Card was docked at low tide in the 48-foot-deep Saigon River, attached the explosive to the ship and detonated it electrically.

Her days of glory past and dwarfed by giant carriers, the Card was assigned to the U.S. Military Sea Transportation Service and classified by the Navy as an aircraft ferry.

Though a naval vessel, she is manned by civilians.

In World War II, the Card won a Presidential Unit Citation for sinking seven U-boats in the Atlantic in 1943. She acted in concert with the destroyers Roarie, Goff and Barry and together they were believed to have sent a dozen or more submarines to the bottom, the most in naval history.

ACTED AS DECOY

The four-vessel team escorted troop convoys and freighters across the submarine-infested Atlantic, the Card often acting as a decoy to trap U-boats in a web of depth charges laid by

JAYCEES WIN TOP PA. HONOR FOR "PROJECT GETTYSBURG"

Gettysburg Schools Report

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The business education courses offered in the Gettysburg Area High School give the students an opportunity to secure basic business knowledge, skills, and attitudes helpful for their personal and vocational use in high school, college and in various business occupations.

Shorthand is the art of writing symbols or characters so brief that the writer may keep pace with the speaker. The shorthand system taught in the Gettysburg Area High School is the one invented by John Robert Gregg and is the one that is used in practically all high schools and business colleges teaching shorthand. The first semester of shorthand emphasizes theory. The student at that time is expected to master a vocabulary and be able to read and write this vocabulary with a degree of fluency and accuracy. The remaining three semesters are spent on drilling for speed in writing shorthand and speed and accuracy in typing back what has been dictated. The standards for this transcription are extremely high. Shorthand is offered for vocational use in the junior and senior year. In the senior year, the student also takes transcription three periods a week in addition to the shorthand course. To do an acceptable job, the student should be able to take dictation at 80 words a minute and transcribe it speedily and accurately. Some students even reach a speed of 140 words a minute.

TYPING FOR TWO YEARS

Typewriting is offered for two years and stresses the development of the ability to do typing for personal and vocational use. Students learn to arrange materials and letters attractively. Practice is also offered in work with outlines, manuscripts and business forms. The students develop habits of proofreading accurately with a critical attitude toward spelling, punctuation, syllabication, and grammar. This helps develop high standards for acceptable work. In order to take second-year typewriting, the student must pass the first year's work with a minimum of 30 words per minute. At the end of the second year the student must attain a speed of at least 40 words per minute with a high degree of accuracy.

In the first year of bookkeeping, the students gain insight and practice into the operation and functioning of a single proprietorship business. It offers a background so that a person can maintain a set of books for a small business; offers basic principles for personal and social use; gives practice in the preparation of reports, papers, and financial statements; and offers a basic course for students with further vocational interests. At various times throughout the course, the students are given practice using actual business papers and forms. In the second year of bookkeeping, the student furthers his knowledge into the functions of working for and keeping books of a partnership and corporation. Information and practice is offered in journalizing, posting to ledger, accounts receivable and payable, payrolls, taxes, and preparing balance sheets and income statements.

Other subjects taught in the Business Education Department include office practice, business mathematics and business English.

COURSE MATERIALS

Office practice is a course that is intended to give senior business students a basic understanding of machines and procedures used in business offices. Instruction is given in the use of duplicators, transcribing machines, punched-card data processing equipment, adding machines and other calculators. Since time does not permit students too much work on the various machines, plans for the future include a two-year course in order to make it possible for students to become proficient in the use of business machines. Considerable time is spent in gaining an understanding of filing practices and communication techniques—telephoning telegrams and interoffice communication systems. Other topics studied are duties of receptionists, personal income tax, and handling of mail.

Business mathematics is offered to sophomore business students. The fundamentals of mathematics are stressed together with payroll, checkbook, insurance, and interest problems. Much emphasis is placed on methods of checking and verifying work as it is done. Business English is required of business students during their senior year. Emphasis is placed in basic grammar and punctuation, particularly as they are related to transcription skills. Spelling and vocabulary also receive much attention.

The Card, which weighs 15,700 tons loaded and measures 496 feet long, is less than half as long and only one-fifth as heavy as the huge nuclear-powered attack carrier Enterprise, the world's largest. She resembles a regular aircraft carrier, only smaller.

Immediately after the pre-dawn explosion tore a hole in the engine-room bulkhead, the Card began settling to the muddy river bottom. She normally draws 26 feet when loaded, and the amount of sinkage was reported to be about 22 feet.

MIGHT CAPSIZE

Borge Langeland, 49, the civilian captain from New Orleans, said there was a possibility the vessel—loaded with old helicopters bound for the United States—might capsize.

Damage to the stricken ship had not been fully determined. Langeland said it probably would be many weeks before the Card could be repaired, refloated and made fit for sea again.

The Card arrived in Saigon Thursday with a load of helicopters and fighter-bombers and was scheduled to sail for the United States later today with the cargo of old helicopters.

Orndorff Swiss

Is Rated High

An eight-year-old cow "Orndorff Lisa 317928," owned by Loy M. Orndorff, Littlestown, 2, has been listed as a "3 Excellent Cow" by the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders Association of America, it was learned today. The rating is among the tops in the area.

The reclassification of "Lisa" and one other new cow took place during the annual official classification made by Judge Hawey Swartz of Waukesha, Wis., during which cows in the herd not previously classified were classified. One was rated excellent, the highest classification possible; the other received the next highest rating, "very good."

Lady Astor

from drinking. She even lectured Josef Stalin for allowing the sale of vodka in Russia.

She was an ardent feminist, unmercifully lashing out at those who did not share her views.

In the last months of her life she was a virtual recluse. Born in Greenwood, Va., Lady Astor was married twice. Her first marriage was to Boston socialite Robert Gould Shaw. It lasted three years.

In 1906 she wed Waldorf Astor, grandson of John Jacob Astor of New York. He served in the House of Commons until he was elevated to the House of Lords. Lady Astor was elected to succeed him. He died in 1952. They had four sons and a daughter. One son, J. J. Astor, now represents the Astors in the Plymouth seat.

VIRGINIA REBEL

Lady Astor was an unreconstructed Virginia rebel who became a peeress of the United Kingdom, and first, wittiest, most famous lady member of the British Parliament.

She proclaimed until the end of her days: "I'd rather be a rattlesnake than a Yankee." For years the newspapers of the world were filled with her battles with such opponents as Generalissimo Stalin, Sir Winston Churchill, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., and lesser-known figures who opposed her multiple causes.

BLOW 4 FROM HOSPITAL ROOM

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—"Suddenly, we found ourselves in the hallway," said Dr. Thomas Denson, who with two patients and a nurse was blown by tornadoic winds from a hospital room.

Denson, a physician at King's Daughters Hospital, was examining Mrs. Willie Williams and her infant daughter when winds and heavy rain struck Friday.

A window of the fourth-floor hospital room was shattered by the wind, spraying broken glass and splinters of wood into the room.

Mrs. Jim Bulls, the nurse, threw herself over the Williams infant to shelter it. Denson tried to protect his patient.

"Then we found ourselves outside in the hallway," he said.

Mrs. Bulls suffered a cut tendon in one of her feet. Mrs. Williams and her baby suffered minor cuts and bruises. Denson was not injured.

Police Chief A. C. Berry said at least 20 persons were injured in the storm, which lasted about 10 minutes.

METHODISTS
INTEGRATION

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Hundreds of Methodist churchgoers from throughout the country staged a dramatic protest in downtown Pittsburgh today against their church's stand for voluntary, gradual integration, saying it was inadequate.

They poured into the city Friday night by bus, plane, train and car from as far away as Chicago, Detroit, Birmingham, Atlanta and Jackson, Miss.

An estimated 1,300 persons, white and Negro, many of them teen-agers, filled two downtown churches for an all-night vigil of prayers, sermons and hymn singing.

They started arriving just hours after the church's General Conference, meeting in its quadrennial session, adopted a voluntary plan to remove racial barriers.

CALLS INADEQUATE

The plan calls for transfer over the next four years of the church's Central Jurisdiction, which represents some 375,000 Negroes, into the five other jurisdictions which are drawn on geographical lines. No enforcement mechanism was provided.

The plan passed by an overwhelming standing vote. But many of the 900 delegates feel it does not go far enough or fast enough.

One minister called it "very definitely a Southern victory." Ralph Roy, a layman from New York City, said the pill-grime had been planned for several months.

"We are not so much protesting what they did," he said. "We are protesting the mood of the conference which was unwilling to move forthrightly for integration of the Methodist Church."

Immediately after Friday's vote some integrationists said they would push for a stronger program before the conference ends next Friday.

SEEKING FUNDS

area will start simultaneously with the belief by the time the last of the anticipated more than 1,000 children have entered Baltimore St. from Wainwright Ave., the head of the remainder of the parade will have reached that point from Meade School.

The Gettysburg Senior High School band will head the military division of the parade, providing marching music for 400 members of Pennsylvania's 28th Division who will be here as a special unit for the parade.

The school children will be led by the Gettysburg Junior High School Band.

CHANGES IN ROUTINE

For the review of a special 30-man U.S. Air Force Honor Guard and Drill Team on Lincoln Square prior to the parade, the senior high school band will also provide the music. Then the band and honor guard will proceed to Meade School to head the three divisions of the parade proceeding from that point.

When the review is ended, the speaker and other distinguished guests will move to Baltimore St. at Wainwright Ave. to review the entire parade, including the children.

For a number of years the children were halted near the National Cemetery and the parade then entered that cemetery past the children. This year the children will march directly into the cemetery at the head of the parade. It was believed his will make for easier handling of the parade and permit school officials more time to line up the youngsters prior to the placing of flowers on the graves.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS

Mayor William G. Weaver, secretary of the Memorial Day committee, said Rev. Merlin Shull and Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy have accepted invitations to give the invocation and benediction at the rostrum exercises.

WGCT Manager Begins Duties
This morning, Parker H. "P. H." Cunningham, of Cumberland, Md., today assumed the position of manager of WGCT, succeeding Murray Goldsborough who resigned a month ago.

Today's Talk

ALERTNESS
William Shakespeare wrote his great play "Julius Caesar" when he was but 37 years of age. In it he brings out the relationship of the citizen of the state, and shows how easy it is for a dictator to sow the seeds of disintegration and decay in a republic.

History is replete with examples of the death of republics that have allowed the voice of a dictator to become so charming and "reasonable" that the people came to lose their sense of proportion and their guardianship of liberty. It was a republic that Benjamin Franklin had in mind when the discussion arose as to what form the new government of the united colonies should adopt. A republic under democratic procedure.

Termites work in the dark. They cannot live in the light. They work twenty-four hours a day, silently. They keep boring within, until the strongest structure gives way, and there is ruin.

Just so do the forces of evil work in a nation — and just so do their damaging work in the individual. We must be on the alert at all times — against the working of destructive forces against health and against character.

The business man must be forever on the alert to note leaks or losses. Constant watchfulness is his key to a successful culmination of his business. Pearl Harbor was the tragic story of failing to be on the alert.

He goes furthest who is most alert. Test this out in any way you wish and it is sure to prove true. When people become apathetic is when they begin to lose their freedom, for the enemies of freedom are always on the alert.

The privilege of casting a ballot in a democracy is the citizen's greatest weapon for the preservation of his freedom. To fail to register when the time comes to exercise that great privilege is to render that one unworthy of such citizenship in a free democracy.

AGE
Time cut him down, for he had ceased to care
What glorious news the morning papers brought
Of high achievements by man's courage wrought,
Or what of trouble must his neighbors bear.

And caring not, he lost the will to share
The many burdens with which days are fraught.
Youth with its dreams, young hopes and rugged thought,
He looked on in amazement and despair.

Furrowed his face and bent his form became.
To him the young seemed arrogantly bold;
As men keep Rembrandt's painting in a frame
The glory of the past he tried to hold.

Thinking cold ashes better than new flame,
And thus before his time the man grew old.

"GIVE TO YOUR FAITH"

When you give to the faith of your choosing . . . you are doing a heavenly thing . . . each faith must be supported . . . if church bells are to ring . . . there isn't any better way . . . to show you are sincere . . . than by a just donation . . . to that which you revere . . . the money spent in doing good . . . returns a thousandfold . . . in the form of blessings . . . sweet to have and hold . . . don't misconstrue this verse of mine . . . I'm just a soul like you . . . who worships faithfully each day . . . what I believe is true . . . I merely write to bring to mind . . . how urgent is the need . . . never for a moment . . . forsake your chosen creed.

Gettysburg Schools Report

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The business education courses offered in the Gettysburg Area High School give the students an opportunity to secure basic business knowledge, skills, and attitudes helpful for their personal and vocational use in high school, college and in various business occupations.

Shorthand is the art of writing symbols or characters so brief that the writer may keep pace with the speaker. The shorthand system taught in the Gettysburg Area High School is the one invented by John Robert Gregg and is the one that is used in practically all high schools and business colleges teaching shorthand. The first semester of shorthand emphasizes theory. The student at that time is expected to master a vocabulary and be able to read and write this vocabulary with a degree of fluency and accuracy. The remaining three semesters are spent on drilling for speed in writing shorthand and speed and accuracy in typing back what has been dictated. The standards for this transcription are extremely high. Shorthand is offered for vocational use in the junior and senior year. In the senior year, the student also takes transcription three periods a week in addition to the shorthand course. To do an acceptable job, the student should be able to take dictation at 80 words a minute and transcribe it speedily and accurately. Some students even reach a speed of 140 words a minute.

TYPING FOR TWO YEARS

Typewriting is offered for two years and stresses the development of the ability to do typing for personal and vocational use. Students learn to arrange materials and letters attractively. Practice is also offered in work with outlines, manuscripts and business forms. The students develop habits of proofreading accurately with a critical attitude toward spelling, punctuation, syllabication, and grammar. This helps develop high standards for acceptable work. In order to take second-year typewriting, the student must pass the first year's work with a minimum of 30 words per minute. At the end of the second year the student must attain a speed of at least 40 words per minute with a high degree of accuracy.

In the first year of bookkeeping, the students gain insight and practice into the operation and functioning of a single proprietorship business. It offers a background so that a person can maintain a set of books for a small business; offers basic principles for personal and social use; gives practice in the preparation of reports, papers, and financial statements; and offers a basic course for students with further vocational interests. At various times throughout the course, the students are given practice using actual business papers and forms. In the second year of bookkeeping, the student furthers his knowledge into the functions of working for and keeping books of a partnership and corporation. Information and practice is offered in journalizing, posting to ledger, accounts receivable and payable, payrolls, taxes, and preparing balance sheets and income statements.

Other subjects taught in the Business Education Department include office practice, business mathematics and business English.

COURSE MATERIALS

Office practice is a course that is intended to give senior business students a basic understanding of machines and procedures used in business offices. Instruction is given in the use of duplicators, transcribing machines, punched-card data processing equipment, adding machines and other calculators. Since time does not permit students too much work on the various machines, plans for the future include a two-year course in order to make it possible for students to become proficient in the use of business machines. Considerable time is spent in gaining an understanding of filing practices and communication techniques—telephoning telegrams and interoffice communication systems. Other topics studied are duties of receptionists, personal income tax, and handling of mail.

Business mathematics is offered to sophomore business students. The fundamentals of mathematics are stressed together with payroll, checkbook, insurance, and interest problems. Much emphasis is placed on methods of checking and verifying work as it is done.

Business English is required of business students during their senior year. Emphasis is placed in basic grammar and punctuation, particularly as they are related to transcription skills. Spelling and vocabulary also receive much attention.

the destroyers. Planes from the Card protected the convoys.

The Card, which weighs 15,700 tons loaded and measures 496 feet long, is less than half as long and only one-fifth as heavy as the huge nuclear-powered attack carrier Enterprise, the world's largest. She resembles a regular aircraft carrier, only smaller.

Immediately after the pre-dawn explosion tore a hole in the engine-room bulkhead, the Card began settling to the muddy river bottom. She normally draws 26 feet when loaded, and the amount of sinkage was reported to be about 22 feet.

MIGHT CAPSIZE

Borge Langeland, 49, the civilian captain from New Orleans, said there was a possibility the vessel—loaded with old helicopters bound for the United States—might capsize.

Damage to the stricken ship had not been fully determined. Langeland said it probably would be many weeks before the Card could be repaired, refloated and made fit for sea again.

The Card arrived in Saigon Thursday with a load of helicopters and fighter-bombers and was scheduled to sail for the United States later today with the cargo of old helicopters.

Orndorff Swiss

Is Rated High

An eight-year-old cow "Orndorff Lisa 317928" owned by Loy M. Orndorff, Littlestown R. 2, has been listed as a "3 Excellent Cow" by the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders Association of America, it was learned today. The rating is among the tops in the area.

The reclassification of "Lisa" and one other new cow took place during the annual official classification made by Judge Hawey Swartz of Waukesha, Wis., during which cows in the herd not previously classified were classified. One was rated excellent, the highest classification possible; the other received the next highest rating, "very good."

Lady Astor

from drinking. She even lectured Josef Stalin for allowing the sale of vodka in Russia.

She was an ardent feminist, unmercilessly lashing out at those who did not share her views.

In the last months of her life she was a virtual recluse.

Born in Greenwood, Va., Lady Astor was married twice. Her first marriage was to Boston socialite Robert Gould Shaw. It lasted three years.

In 1906 she wed Waldorf Astor, grandson of John Jacob Astor of New York. He served in the House of Commons until he was elevated to the House of Lords. Lady Astor was elected to succeed him. He died in 1952.

They had four sons and a daughter. One son, J. J. Astor, now represents the Astors in the Plymouth seat.

VIRGINIA REBEL

Lady Astor was an unreconstructed Virginia rebel who became a peeress of the United Kingdom, and first, wittiest, most famous lady member of the British Parliament.

She proclaimed until the end of her days: "I'd rather be a rattlesnake than a Yankee."

For years the newspapers of the world were filled with her battles with such opponents as Generalissimo Stalin, Sir Winston Churchill, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., and lesser-known figures who opposed her multiple causes.

These included women's rights, prohibition birth control, nursery schools and tight British-American friendship.

It also included loyalty to the Confederacy.

RODRIGUEZ IS TOP GOLFER IN $65,000 OPEN

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — More wind—hopefully not as severe as Friday's—was promised golfers today as Chi Chi Rodriguez, the mighty mite from Puerto Rico, led the way into the third round of the $65,000 Tournament of Champions.

The 120-pound, 5-foot-7 1/2 Chi Chi marched courageously through the wind and sand to take the lead at the midway mark Friday with a two-under-par 70 and a 36-hole total of 139.

Hanging two strokes back was Jack Nicklaus, who had a 73 for 141 and this observation on the weather as he wiped reddened eyes:

SAND AND WIN

"The conditions were as tough as they'll ever be. It was not so much the wind, but the sand in the wind."

Gary Player of South Africa, who had a 71 and is tied in third place with Doug Ford and George Knudson at 142, said, "It was the worst weather I've ever played golf in."

Arnold Palmer, who is five strokes off the front end with a pair of 73s, added that he'd just as soon try to play golf in a wind tunnel.

The site of this 12th annual event is the 7,073-yard par 36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Ford, the first-round leader with a 67, settled for a 75.

Only four players were able to break par Friday — Rodriguez, Knudson, Player and Paul Horney. The latter's 71 left him at 143.

LOOT FINE; PURSE SILLY NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Edith Steinberg's purse was stolen from a bench in a bowling alley.

Then she got a letter signed "Black Sambo."

"I'm having a ball on your $110, but I don't know what to do with that silly bag it came in."

Open Twin Double At Cherry Hill

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Twin-double wagering begins Tuesday at Garden State Park race track here.

The track announced the advent of the twin-double Friday, shortly after the state Racing Commission approved this form of betting.

General Manager Joseph M. McCrane Jr., said, "this is strictly an experiment. We want to find out if the public's desire for the twin double is justified by their support."

The twin will include the fifth, sixth, eighth, and ninth races.

DODGERS TOP GIANTS 7 TO 1 BEFORE 52,733

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Every time they looked up Willie Mays was at first base, but that didn't stop the Los Angeles Dodgers from winning game No. 1 against the San Francisco Giants.

Don Drysdale pitched a five-hitter and Tommy Davis, recovered from a shoulder injury, drove in four runs as the Dodgers belted the Giants 7-1 Friday night before a crowd of 52,733 at Los Angeles—the biggest of the baseball season.

But the most surprising development centered around Mays, who hit his eighth homer and also collected a single, raising his batting average to .489 and wound up playing first base for the first time in his 13-year major league career.

ERRORLESS BALL

Mays, suffering with a charley horse, moved from his normal center field position to first base in the second inning. He didn't make an error and handled a couple of difficult chances, but it was the Dodgers' night even before the game started.

Before Drysdale came to the mound, Dodger ace Sandy Koufax was pronounced fit and another Los Angeles pitching casualty, Johnny Podres, was listed as a probable starter for Sunday's game. Koufax, who has been out since April 22 when he strained a muscle in his left forearm, may pitch Monday.

Club physician Dr. Robert Kerian turned Koufax over to Dodger Manager Walt Alton this way:

"He's all yours now. So far as I'm concerned, he can pitch any time."

FANS 9 GIANTS

So can Drysdale, who struck out nine Giants and walked only two. He brought his record to 2-1 as the Dodgers made it five victories in their last six games but remained 5 1/2 games behind front-running Philadelphia.

The Phillies got another standout one-man performance from Richie Allen, who hit his sixth homer and also stroked a double, lifting his average to an eye-opening .431 while leading the way to a 5-3 victory over Milwaukee. It was the 10th victory in 12 games for the Phillies.

Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs also had a hot bat. Williams drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single in a 10-run first inning and later added a sixth RBI as the Cubs walloped Houston 11-3.

CARDS BEAT BUCS

Elsewhere, Roger Craig won his first game for St. Louis by stopping Pittsburgh 6-2 on seven hits and Cincinnati rode seventh inning homers by Gordy Coleman and Marty Keough to a 4-3 decision over the New York Mets.

It was the only game played Friday, with Reading at Elmira and Charleston at Williamsport both postponed because of rain or wet grounds.

Second baseman Damase Blanco provided the big hit for Springfield, now leading the league by half a game, though behind Charleston by a few percentage points. Blanco's single scored Joe Edmonson with the winning run in the 15th.

Arruda gave up only eight hits in the game, striking out 12 and walking seven.

For York, southpaw Don Loun was replaced in the eighth inning by righthander Jim Burton who finished up and got the loss.

BATTEY'S BAT PACES TWINS TO 10 TO 5 WIN

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Battey put the bite on Kansas City, and both came away aching.

The only trouble for the Athletics, though, was that Battey's ache struck too late.

Minnesota's All-Star catcher pounded a grand-slam home run and a tie-breaking two-run single in powering the Twins past Kansas City 10-5 Friday night.

Battey performed all of his destruction before being forced to leave the game in the eighth inning when a foul tip struck his mask. The foul ball aggravated a toothache that has been plaguing him.

BESTE OF SEASON

The grand-slam homer came in the sixth and gave the Twins a 4-3 edge. His clutch single sent Minnesota into the lead for good in the eighth.

Battey's output was his best of the young season. The homer was his second while the runs batted in doubled his total in that category.

The 29-year-old catcher's prowess highlighted a home run deluge at Municipal Stadium. So many homers were hit, in fact, the 6,047 fans must have thought they were at Yankee Stadium.

Rain and wet grounds sliced the American League schedule to just one other game. New York's 10-4 victory over Washington, Cleveland at Baltimore and Los Angeles at Chicago were postponed.

Battey's homer caught Kansas City starter Moe Drabowsky just when he started thinking he might get out of the sixth-inning jam. Singles by Rich Rollins and Tony Oliva and a walk to Bob Allison loaded the bases with no outs.

Drabowsky then struck out Jimmie Hall and Harmon Killebrew, who smashed 78 home runs between them last season, before Battey connected.

Battey's single to left center in the eighth broke a 4-4 tie. Rollins also singled home two runs in the inning.

The Yankees moved above the .500 mark for the first time this season behind Whitey Ford's two-hitter. Ford, gaining his second shutout, didn't allow a hit after the third. Tom Tresh singled cross the only run in the fourth.

Today's Talk

ALERTNESS
William Shakespeare wrote his great play "Julius Caesar" when he was but 37 years of age. In it he brings out the relationship of the citizen of the state, and shows how easy it is for a dictator to sow the seeds of disintegration and decay in a republic.

History is replete with examples of the death of republics that have allowed the voice of a dictator to become so charming and "reasonable" that the people came to lose their sense of proportion and their guardianship of liberty. It was a republic that Benjamin Franklin had in mind when the discussion arose as to what form the new government of the united colonies should adopt. A republic under democratic procedure.

Termites work in the dark. They cannot live in the light. They work twenty-four hours a day, silently. They keep boring within, until the strongest structure gives way, and there is ruin. Just so do the forces of evil work in a nation — and just do they their damaging work in the individual. We must be on the alert at all times — against the working of destructive forces against health and against character.

The business man must be forever on the alert to note leaks or losses. Constant watchfulness is his key to a successful culmination of his business. Pearl Harbor was the tragic story of failing to be on the alert.

He goes further than is most alert. Test this out in any way you wish and it is sure to prove true. When people become apathetic is when they begin to lose their freedom, for the enemies of freedom are always on the alert.

The privilege of casting a ballot in a democracy is the citizen's greatest weapon for the preservation of his freedom. To fail to register when the time comes to exercise that great privilege is to render that one unworthy of such citizenship in a free democracy.

AGE
Time cut him down, for he had ceased to care
What glorious news the morning papers brought
Of high achievements by man's courage wrought.
Or what of trouble must his neighbors bear.

And caring not, he lost the will to share
The many burdens with which days are fraught.
Youth with its dreams, young hopes and rugged thought,
He looked on in amazement and despair.

Furrowed his face and bent his form became.
To him the young seemed arrogantly bold;
As men keep Rembrandt's painting in a frame
The glory of the past he tried to hold.

Thinking cold ashes better than new flame,
And thus before his time the man grew old.

Murder Of White Persons In New York Area Blamed On Youths; Racial Motive

NEW YORK (AP)—Police assigned to the fatal stabbing of two white women investigated the possibility today that some militant young Negroes are assaulting whites from a racial motive.

They arrested two youths in the stabbing Wednesday of a white woman proprietress of a Harlem clothing store and said one had admitted slaying a white woman social worker in Harlem on April 11.

The proprietress was Magit Sugar, 45, a Hungarian refugee, and the social worker was Eileen A. Johnston, 28, formerly of Elgin, Ill.

OTHER SLAYINGS

Police said the two youths also would be questioned in the Harlem slayings of two white men—David L. Watts, 29, a Bible reader who was the only white member of a Negro church congregation, and Jules Bulgach, 71, a fruit peddler.

Both were stabbed to death—Watts on March 23 and Bulgach last Oct. 21.

Police earlier had described the slayings as senseless. No robbery was involved.

An unidentified detective was quoted by the New York Times Friday as saying police were investigating a number of recent Harlem killings and assaults that "seemed to be the work of racists."

The two youths arrested on homicide charges brought to five the number picked up in the clothing store killings. All are Negroes.

The detective said a police informant had definitely identified the first three youths arrested as members of the militant Black Muslim movement.

He said this information combined with previous investigation of possible ties between militant groups and a number of assaults helped lead to the speedy arrests.

Agent Says First Alfalfa May Be Cut In Bud Stage Without Harm To Growth

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Cutting management of alfalfa may be the key to higher yields and longer lived stands.

Recent research conducted by Dr. J. B. Washko, professor of agronomy at the Pennsylvania State University, reveals that alfalfa can survive early cutting in the spring better than in the fall. Making silage or hay when first cutting alfalfa in the bud to early bloom is not only possible, it is the best management practice that can be followed. But be sure to let the later cuttings come to some stage of bloom before harvest.

Late summer cutting management may be critical. Don't remove the last cutting at the full bud or earlier stage unless there has been a hard killing frost first. In the Penn State studies, removing the third or last cutting at this early stage in late August resulted in lower yields the following year.

What goes on inside the plant to make the difference? Top alfalfa yields each season depend upon two important things: the amount of food stored in the roots and the number of rhizomes or tiny underground stems formed on the alfalfa crowns in late summer of the previous year.

REDUCES RHIZOMES

Taking the first crop off in the spring at the full bud stage did not affect the number of rhizomes formed that fall. However, when the third cutting was removed at the full bud stage in late August, the number of rhizomes formed was reduced by one-third—even though the first and second cuttings were made when the alfalfa was in bloom.

The amount of food stored in the roots is equally important.

Washko's studies showed that in Pennsylvania 36 to 44 days between cuttings were required for alfalfa to replenish its root reserves, depending upon conditions of the growing season.

So, for top yields of high-quality forage, give your alfalfa crop plenty of plant food. Cut the first crop when most of the plants are in full bud to early bloom. Make second and third cuttings, other than the last, when alfalfa is in one-fourth bloom. Make the last cutting each season at a time to assure adequate development of stored food in the roots and formation of rhizomes.

MOISTURE LOSSES

The amount of dry matter losses which occur when hay-crop forage is ensiled generally will be lower as moisture level decreases.

Dry matter losses may occur in both the field and silo. Field losses result from weathering, plant respiration and mechanical losses in handling. Silo losses include those from visible spoilage, seepage and invisible fermentation.

Direct-cut forage usually will contain over 70 per cent moisture and is classified as high-moisture silage. Regular wilted silage may contain 61 to 70 per cent moisture. Forage containing 60 per cent or less moisture is usually classified as haylage or low-moisture silage.

Field losses for direct-cut forage will average about two per cent of the dry matter harvested. A comparable figure for regular wilted forage is about six per cent. Field losses for haylage, however, may approach 12 per cent or more due to greater exposure to weathering and higher mechanical losses from handling the drier material.

A recent compilation of available data revealed that silo or storage losses is conventional tower silos averaged 21 per cent of the dry matter ensiled. Storage losses were 11 per cent and eight per cent for regular wilted and haylage, respectively. Total dry matter losses from harvesting to feeding out are highest for the direct-cut method. Total losses for haylage will approach or slightly exceed those with regular wilted silage.

MAY REDUCE LOSS

Dry matter losses with direct-cut forage may be reduced considerably by using 200 pounds of good additive per ton of forage ensiled. This aids in preservation and reduces seepage losses. Very little, if any, seepage results when the moisture content of the forage is 70 per cent or under at ensiling.

It appears that wilting hay-crop forage to 70 per cent or less moisture should be the preferred method of ensiling. Forage should not be wilted to the point of haylage (60 per cent moisture or under) unless precautions are taken. There is no apparent advantage to wilting below 50 per cent moisture.

LAWNS NEED NITROGEN

containing more nitrogen than phosphate or potash.

The home owner may be wiser to choose a special lawn grade fertilizer containing ureaform or a natural organic nitrogen carrier. These materials release their nitrogen slowly over a long period of time. They are also less apt to burn foliage.

A well-formulated grade should contain at least 50 per cent of the total nitrogen, in slow release form. Most special grades avoid the dustiness of powdered materials and yet are fine enough for the fertilizer spreader.

Fertilizers composed of coarse granules are less dusty, easy to handle and roll off leaves, so are less apt to cause injury. If the granules are too large, they will not go through the spreader without damaging the agitator. Lightweight fertilizers, formulated on mica or corncoats, may blow in the wind and can be rather expensive.

Farm fertilizers are cheapest because they are in quickly available salt form. However, they are apt to burn unless applied just before a rain and are prone to cause alternating feast and famine in the lawn.

Church Members Adopt Island Child

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — A fatherless, 7-year-old Philippine island girl was adopted by members of the First Baptist Church who have volunteered to provide funds for her support.

They will send $15 a month for at least a year to aid Avelina O. De Los Reyes.

The girl's father was killed in an accident two months before she was born. She is the youngest of seven children.

The family lives in Caloocan City, about four miles from Manila.

Her mother works in cornfields near the family home and earns an average of 30 cents a day.

Production Of Steel Is Racing At Terrific Pace

By ROGER LANE
NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's $16-billion steel industry, biting its nails at this time in 1962 and 1963, is brimming with optimism.

Production is at a gallop. Major producers report first-quarter profits up in many cases 50 to 75 per cent from a year ago. There is no sign of a serious labor dispute.

Edmund F. Martin, board chairman of the second-ranking firm, Bethlehem Steel Corp., told newsmen 1964 might prove a record year for steel companies assuming there is no strike in the auto industry.

The main threat to tranquility, a federal indictment charging eight big steelmakers with price fixing in 1955-61, has been crowded pretty much into the background for the time being. The companies have pleaded innocent.

EXCELLENT MARKET

Two years ago steel executives were nursing wounds from their run-in with the late President John F. Kennedy over an attempted price increase, later withdrawn. A year ago anxiety over a possible strike had not dissolved in a contract settlement.

With the economy on a prolonged and strong upbeat, the market for steel is the best in five years or longer on a sustained basis. It points to a possible bettering of the 117-million-ton industry production record set in 1955.

KNOW YOUR HAY RITHMETIC

ALFALFA

5 TONS ABOUT 154 BALE VIBROBUILT
5 TONS = 50 LBS.
50 LBS. = 1 BALE
1 BALE = 50 LBS.

Are you getting five tons of alfalfa? If not, then you may not be applying enough fertilizer.

ALFALFA IS A HEAVY EATER. It has long reigned as "QUEEN" of hay crops because of its superior quality as a feed. It also has another distinction: Removal of more plant food from the soil than most field crops.

EACH TON of alfalfa hay takes up about 10 lbs. of phosphate (P₂O₅) and 45 lbs. of potash (K₂O).

HAY-RITHMETIC

A 5-ton crop removes 50 lbs. of P₂O₅ and 225 lbs. of K₂O.

Five tons = about 154 bales (65 lbs.).

If you want to move to this yield, and stay there, you must meet the fertility needs of your crop.

Convince yourself. Try our alfalfa fertilizer on all or just part of your field. Come in and discuss a complete program with us.

The Gettysburg College freshman track team pulled down the curtain on its short regular season by walloping Mercersburg Academy 73-40 Friday afternoon at a water soaked track at Mercersburg.

The Little Bullets went 2-1 on the season including a victory in a lone triangular meet. Coach Hal Glad will send a frosh relay team and possibly a mile to the MAC championships next week-week at La Salle.

RODRIGUEZ IS TOP GOLFER IN $65,000 OPEN

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — More wind—hopefully not as severe as Friday's—was promised golfers today as Chi Chi Rodriguez, the mighty mile from Puerto Rico, led the way into the third round of the $65,000 Tournament of Champions.

The 120-pound, 5-foot-7 1/2 Chi Chi marched courageously through the wind and sand to take the lead at the midway mark Friday with a two-under-par 70 and a 36-hole total of 139.

Hanging two strokes back was Jack Nicklaus, who had a 73 for 141 and this observation on the weather as he wiped reddened eyes:

SAND AND WIN

"The conditions were as tough as they'll ever be. It was snot so much the wind, but the sand in the wind."

Gary Player of South Africa, who had a 71 and is tied in third place with Doug Ford and George Knudson at 142, said, "It was the worst weather I've ever played golf in."

Arnold Palmer, who is five strokes off the front end with a pair of 72s, added that he'd just as soon try to play golf in a wind tunnel.

The site of this 12th annual event is the 7,073-yard par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Ford, the first-round leader with a 67, settled for a 75.

Only four players were able to break par Friday — Rodriguez, Knudson, Player and Paul Harney. The latter's 71 left him at 143.

LOOT FINE; PURSE SILLY

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Edith Steinberg's purse was stolen from a bench in a bowling alley.

Then she got a letter signed "Black Sambo."

Open Twin Double At Cherry Hill

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—Twin-double wagering begins Tuesday at Garden State Park race track here.

The track announced the advent of the twin-double Friday, shortly after the state Racing Commission approved this form of betting.

General Manager Joseph M. McCrane Jr., said, "this is strictly an experiment. We want to find out if the public's desire for the twin double is justified by their support."

The twin will include the fifth, sixth, eighth, and ninth races.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Springfield righthander Tom Arruda pitched the equivalent of two games Friday night, but added only one win to his record.

Arruda went the distance—a full 15 innings—as the Giants eked out a long one against the York White Roses, 2-1, in an Eastern League contest.

It was the only game played Friday, with Reading at Elmira and Charleston at Williamsport both postponed because of rain or wet grounds.

Second basemen Damase Blanco provided the big hit for Springfield, now leading the league by half a game, though behind Charleston by a few percentage points. Blanco's single scored Joe Edmonson with the winning run in the 15th.

Arruda gave up only eight hits in the game, striking out 12 and walking seven.

For York, southpaw Don Loun was replaced in the eighth inning by righthander Jim Burton who finished up and got the loss.

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Every time they looked up Willie Mays was at first base, but that didn't stop the Los Angeles Dodgers from winning game No. 1 against the San Francisco Giants.

Don Drysdale pitched a five-hitter and Tommy Davis, recovered from a shoulder injury, drove in four runs as the Dodgers belted the Giants 7-1 Friday night before a crowd of 52,733 at Los Angeles—the biggest of the baseball season.

But the most surprising development centered around Mays, who hit his eighth homer and also collected a single, raising his batting average to .489—and wound up playing first base for the first time in his 13-year major league career.

ERRORLESS BALL

Mays, suffering with a charley horse, moved from his normal center field position to first base in the second inning. He didn't make an error and handled a couple of difficult chances, but it was the Dodgers' night even before the game started.

Before Drysdale went to the mound, Dodger ace Sandy Koufax was pronounced fit and another Los Angeles pitching casualty, Johnny Podres, was listed as a probable starter for Sunday's game. Koufax, who has been out since April 22 when he strained a muscle in his left forearm, may pitch Monday.

Club physician Dr. Robert Kerlan turned Koufax over to Dodger Manager Walt Alston this way:

"He's all yours now. So far as I'm concerned, he can pitch any time."

FANS 9 GIANTS

So can Drysdale, who struck out nine Giants and walked only two. He brought his record to 2-1 as the Dodgers made it five victories in their last six games but remained 5 1/2 games behind front-running Philadelphia.

The Phillies got another standout one-man performance from Richie Allen, who hit his sixth homer and also stroked a double, lifting his average to an eye-opening .431 while leading the way to a 5-3 victory over Milwaukee. It was the 10th victory in 12 games for the Phillies.

Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs also had a hot bat. Williams drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a single in a 10-run first inning and later added a sixth RBI as the Cubs walloped Houston 11-3.

CARDS BEAT BUCS

Elsewhere, Roger Craig won his first game for St. Louis by stopping Pittsburgh 6-2 on seven hits and Cincinnati rode seventh inning homers by Gordy Coleman and Marty Keough to a 4-3 decision over the New York Mets.

PATTON, MOORE LEAD TOURNEY

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Billy Joe Patton estimates that he and Dale Morey played perhaps 100 rounds of golf together during the three years they both lived in Morganton, N.C., before Morey moved to High Point last year.

Today they met for the first time under tournament conditions in the 36-hole finals of the North and South Amateur Championship.

Each scored an impressive victory in 18-hole semifinal play Friday. Patton put out Wayne Jackson of Hampton, Va., 4 and 3, the fourth of six matches this week he has won by that score.

Morey surprisingly trounced Bob Allen of West Hartford, Conn., 6 and 5. Allen was runner-up last year when Patton won his second straight title and third since 1954.

Patton, a 42-year-old lumberman, and Morey, a 43-year-old furniture executive, both shot one-under-par golf.

Schedule Makers Having Busy Time

Athletic directors are encountering one of their busiest seasons as they revamp their schedules to compensate for the long rainy spell.

Here's what they did on Friday as another schedule was called off:

Gettysburg College and F. and M., baseball and golf, cancelled; Bolling Springs at Gettysburg High, track, postponed until May 13; Cedar Cliff at Gettysburg, golf, May 5; Littlestown at New Oxford, baseball, May 4; Francis Scott Key at Littlestown, baseball, cancelled; Biglerville at Bermudian, baseball, May 20; Bermudian at Dover, track, postponed.

Gene Wettstone is in his 26th year as gymnastics coach at Penn State.

BATTEY'S BAT PACES TWINS TO 10 TO 5 WIN

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Battey put the bite on Kansas City, and both came away aching.

The only trouble for the Athletics, though, was that Battey's ache struck too late.

Minnesota's All-Star catcher pounded a grand-slam home run and a tie-breaking two-run single in powering the Twins past Kansas City 10-5 Friday night.

Battey performed all of his destruction before being forced to leave the game in the eighth inning when a foul tip struck his mask. The foul ball aggravated a toothache that has been plaguing him.

BEST OF SEASON

The grand-slam homer came in the sixth and gave the Twins a 4-3 edge. His clutch single sent Minnesota into the lead for good in the eighth.

Battey's output was his best of the young season. The homer was his second while the runs batted in doubled his total in that category.

The 29-year-old catcher's prowess highlighted a home run deluge at Municipal Stadium. So many homers were hit, in fact, the 6,047 fans must have thought they were at Yankee Stadium.

Rain and wet grounds sliced the American League schedule to just one other game, New York's 10-0 victory over Washington, Cleveland at Baltimore and Los Angeles at Chicago were postponed.

Battey's homer caught Kansas City starter Moe Drabowsky just when he started thinking he might get out of the sixth-inning jam. Singles by Rich Rollins and Tony Oliva and a walk to Bob Allison loaded the bases with no outs.

Drabowsky then struck out Jimmie Hall and Harmon Killebrew, who smashed 78 home runs between them last season, before Battey connected.

Battey's single to left center in the eighth broke a 4-4 tie. Rollins also singled home two runs in the inning.

The Yankees moved above the .500 mark for the first time this season behind Whitey Ford's two-hitter. Ford, gaining his second shutout, didn't allow a hit after the third. Tom Tresh singled cross the only run in the fourth.

Congress Says New TV Sets Must Pull All 82 Channels

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAW
WASHINGTON (AP)—American television passed another milestone Friday.

Any video set made in this country from now on must be capable of receiving 82—instead of 12—television channels.

The result, as time goes by, should be more stations, more program variety, and better television reception throughout the United States.

Congress passed the all-channel television set requirement in 1962 and made it effective Friday to give the industry time to adapt itself to the new law.

INCLUDES IMPORTS

It also applies to any sets imported into this country.

Most television sets on the market today are equipped to receive only the 12 very high frequency channels from 2 through 13.

But television broadcasting, says the Federal Communications Commission—which originally asked Congress for the all-channel receiver law—has outgrown those channels.

Ready to accommodate the overflow are 70 ultra-high-frequency channels. More than 100 UHF stations are operating today, but many television owners are not familiar with them because their sets are equipped for only VHF reception.

LIMITED SERVICE

The 12 VHF channels can accommodate no more than 650 television stations. Thus, while some larger cities have several such stations, many are limited by FCC allocations to two or fewer. And some cities have none.

But the 70 UHF channels can accommodate up to 3,000 new stations, promising more communities a chance of having their own stations and offering viewers a greater choice of programs.

The FCC points out that the new law does not require owners of VHF sets to buy new receivers.

MAY ADD CONVERTER

Viewers have several options if they wish to take immediate advantage of the UHF stations in their areas. They may buy one of the new all-channel sets now on the market. They may have a UHF tuner installed in their VHF set.

They may add a UHF converter to their VHF set. Or they may install what is known as a strip tuner in their present set, allowing them to tune in on one or more available UHF channels.

With all-channel reception mandatory, the FCC said, "TV broadcasting will find ample room in UHF to grow on a national basis."

"The end result will be more TV stations, greater TV program variety, and better local TV reception throughout the land."

SOME OLDTIME TV PROGRAMS ARE BOUNCED

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—To most mortals, spring is a joyous time but 'tis not so to many workers of the television vineyards. This is when the wine turns sour.

Some of the casualties are veterans that have flourished, withered and died. Most are one-season entries doomed by malnutrition of ratings. Many of the passings went unlamented. But a few series had stout champions who bombarded the networks with protests, always to no avail.

The Jerry Lewis Show, "100 Grand," "Harry's Girls" and "Glynis" were mercifully canceled early in the season. To the others, playing out their final weeks, this ode of farewell is directed. The networks assure that these cancellations are final and irrevocable, subject to change without notice.

OUT THEY GO

The knell has struck for "11th Hour."

And, "Channing" climbs up the ivory tower.

"Jamie McPheters" travels are over.

"Temple Houston" goes out to clover.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" will be no more.

"Espionage" and "Great Adventure" head for the door.

The last dead end faces "Route 66."

"The Price Is Right" has run out of tricks.

It's curtains for Edie Adams and Sid Caesar.

"The Fight of the Week" has been hit in the beeper.

"East Side, West Side" won't be around the town.

DOWN THEY COME

Garry Moore and Richard Boone have come tumbling down.

Too bad that "Grindl" soon will be unemployed.

The fate of "Twilight Zone" is consigned to the void.

Judy, Judy, Judy—it's sad to see her go.

It's well-earned retirement for the Danny Thomas show.

"77 Sunset Strip" faces eviction.

The title "Breaking Point" becomes an apt prediction.

Joey Bishop's dumped "Show of the Week" closed.

Phil Silvers' bumped, "The Lieutenant" deposed.

All are swept away, rating's the reason.

To their replacements: Better luck next season.

84,297 Free Votes In Texas Primary

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A total of 84,297 Texans are entitled to take advantage today of the first free voting since 1902.

The state comptroller has received reports that this is the total number of free registration certificates—in the form of poll tax receipts marked "poll tax not paid"—issued during a special registration period Feb. 5-March 6.

The free certificates are necessary because Texas still requires payment of the poll tax to qualify voters in state and local elections. The requirement was banned for federal elections by ratification in January of a federal poll tax ban amendment.

The free certificates allow voting in the Saturday primary on congressmen, congressman-at-large and U.S. senator.

U. S. - CANADA FAIL TO EASE MARKET ISSUE

OTTAWA (AP)—Proposals for a limited U.S.-Canadian common market failed to make headway at a cabinet-level review of joint economic problems.

U.S. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon and Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin, leader of their delegations for the talks Wednesday and Thursday, said mutual understanding of economic problems had improved but they reported no major agreements on unresolved problems.

Dillon added that the idea of a duty-free flow of goods between the two countries had not been discussed in any detail.

Although each country is the other's largest customer, proposals to establish a single U.S.-Canadian market remain tangled in politics.

U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball broached the idea in a speech last week, but his suggestion was criticized here as a threat to Canadian economic independence.

The talks also failed to achieve any agreement on a controversial Canadian tariff incentive program to encourage production of auto parts in Canada.

NURSE ADVISES BEN CASEY ON FINE POINTS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—If "Ben Casey" had it to do all over again, chances are that the dedicated doctor would pick a specialty other than neurosurgery.

"Neurosurgery is pretty self-limiting," explained the ABC series' technical advisor.

The technical advisor, incidentally, is not a neurosurgeon, but a registered nurse, Alice Rodriguez, who inherited the job when Dr. Max Warner, the brain surgeon who first worked on the show, was called into the Navy. She talks like a real doctor after all her association with medical problems.

SHE'S WATCHDOG

Mrs. Rodriguez' job, however, does not involve hunting new diseases and ailments to fit storylines. That is done by the three medical consultants who work with the script writers.

Sometimes she bandages simulated wounds. She checks out the operating room to make sure the instruments are in correct sequence. She orders supplies. Most important, perhaps, she hunts for incorrect procedure and unmedical dialogue in scripts.

The past season has been a rather traumatic one for the glowering surgeon-hero and his cohorts. ABC shifted the show from its popular Monday night spot to Wednesday nights and an hour when two popular comedy shows are shown on a rival network. "Ben Casey" dropped abruptly from its levels among the 10 top shows to—in the most recent Nielsen rating—40th place. Next season, however, it will be restored to its old spot and, hopefully, its former popularity.

TOPS FOR WEEKEND

CBS definitely plans to cancel "Made in America," its new Sunday night quiz show with millionaires for contestants as soon as a replacement can be arranged.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Today—Kentucky Derby, CBS, 5-6 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Time) running of the annual classic.

Sunday—Golf "Tournament of Champions," NBC, 4-5:30—final holes in the Las Vegas match; "Incident on Wilson Street," NBC, 10-11, documentary on children living in an underprivileged neighborhood.

Agent Says First Alfalfa May Be Cut In Bud Stage Without Harm To Growth

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Cutting management of alfalfa may be the key to higher yields and longer lived stands. Recent research conducted by

Thomas E. Piper

Dr. J. B. Washko, professor of agronomy at the Pennsylvania State University, reveals that alfalfa can survive early cutting in the spring better than in the fall. Making silage or hay when first cutting alfalfa in the bud to early bloom is not only possible, it is the best management practice that can be followed. But be sure to let the later cuttings come to some stage of bloom before harvest.

Late summer cutting management may be critical. Don't remove the last cutting at the full bud or earlier stage unless there has been a hard killing frost first. In the Penn State studies, removing the third or last cutting at this early stage in late August resulted in lower yields the following year.

What goes on inside the plant to make the difference? Top alfalfa yields each season depend upon two important things: the amount of food stored in the roots and the number of rhizomes or tiny underground stems formed on the alfalfa crowns in late summer of the previous year.

REDUCES RHIZOMES

Taking the first crop off in the spring at the full bud stage did not affect the number of rhizomes formed that fall. However, when the third cutting was removed at the full bud stage in late August, the number of rhizomes formed was reduced by one-third—even though the first and second cuttings were made when the alfalfa was in bloom.

The amount of food stored in the roots is equally important.

Washko's studies showed that in Pennsylvania 36 to 44 days between cuttings were required for alfalfa to replenish its root reserves, depending upon conditions of the growing season.

So, for top yields of high-quality forage, give your alfalfa crop plenty of plant food. Cut the first crop when most of the plants are in full bud to early bloom. Make second and third cuttings, other than the last, when alfalfa is in one-fourth bloom. Make the last cutting each season at a time to assure adequate development of stored food in the roots and formation of rhizomes.

MOISTURE LOSSES

The amount of dry matter losses which occur when hay-crop forage is ensiled generally will be lower as moisture level decreases.

Dry matter losses may occur in both the field and silo. Field losses result from weathering, plant respiration and mechanical losses in handling. Silo losses include those from visible spoilage, seepage and invisible fermentation.

Direct-cut forage usually will contain over 70 per cent moisture and is classified as high-moisture silage. Regular wilted silage may contain 61 to 70 per cent moisture. Forage containing 60 per cent or less moisture is usually classified as haylage or low-moisture silage.

Field losses for direct-cut forage will average about two per cent of the dry matter harvested. A comparable figure for regular wilted forage is about six per cent. Field losses for haylage, however, may approach 12 per cent or more due to greater exposure to weathering and higher mechanical losses from handling the drier material.

A recent compilation of available data revealed that silo or storage losses in conventional tower silos averaged 21 per cent of the dry matter ensiled. Storage losses were 11 per cent and eight per cent for regular wilted and haylage, respectively. Total dry matter losses from harvesting to feeding out are highest for the direct-cut method. Total losses for haylage will approach or slightly exceed those with regular wilted silage.

MAY REDUCE LOSS

Dry matter losses with direct-cut forage may be reduced considerably by using 200 pounds of good additive per ton of forage ensiled. This aids in preservation and reduces seepage losses. Very little, if any, seepage results when the moisture content of the forage is 70 per cent or under at ensiling.

It appears that wilting hay-crop forage to 70 per cent or less moisture should be the preferred method of ensiling. Forage should not be wilted to the point of haylage (60 per cent moisture or under) unless precautions are taken. There is no apparent advantage to wilting below 50 per cent moisture.

containing more nitrogen than phosphate or potash.

The home owner may be wiser to choose a special lawn grade fertilizer containing ureaform or a natural organic nitrogen carrier. These materials release their nitrogen slowly over a long period of time. They are also less apt to burn foliage.

A well-formulated grade should contain at least 50 per cent of the total nitrogen, in slow release form. Most special grades avoid the dustiness of powdered materials and yet are fine enough for the fertilizer spreader.

Fertilizers composed of coarse granules are less dusty, easy to handle and roll off leaves, so are less apt to cause injury. If the granules are too large, they will not go through the spreader without damaging the agitator. Lightweight fertilizers, formulated on mica or corncobs, may blow in the wind and can be rather expensive.

Farm fertilizers are cheapest because they are in quickly available salt form. However, they are apt to burn unless applied just before a rain and are prone to cause alternating feast and famine in the lawn.

Production Of Steel Is Racing At Terrific Pace

By ROGER LANE

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's $16-billion steel industry, biting its nails at this time in 1962 and 1963, is brimming with optimism.

Production is at a gallop. Major producers report first-quarter profits up in many cases 50 to 75 per cent from a year ago. There is no sign of a serious labor dispute.

Edmund F. Martin, board chairman of the second-ranking firm, Bethlehem Steel Corp., told newsmen 1964 might prove a record year for steel companies assuming there is no strike in the auto industry.

The main threat to tranquility, a federal indictment charging eight big steelmakers with price fixing in 1955-61, has been crowded pretty much into the background for the time being. The companies have pleaded innocent.

EXCELLENT MARKET

Two years ago steel executives were nursing wounds from their run-in with the late President John F. Kennedy over an attempted price increase, later withdrawn. A year ago anxiety over a possible strike had not dissolved in a contract settlement.

With the economy on a prolonged and strong upbeat, the market for steel is the best in five years or longer on a sustained basis. It points to a possible bettering of the 117-million-ton industry production record set in 1955.

Someone cut about three miles of telephone line. Company officials said the thieves carried off 17,000 feet of wire from an area almost inaccessible except by foot.

KNOW YOUR HAY RITHMETIC

Are you getting five tons of alfalfa? If not, then you may not be applying enough fertilizer.

ALFALFA IS A HEAVY EATER. It has long reigned as "QUEEN" of hay crops because of its superior quality as a feed. It also has another distinction: Removal of more plant food from the soil than most field crops.

EACH TON of alfalfa hay takes up about 10 lbs. of phosphate (P₂O₅) and 45 lbs. of potash (K₂O).

HAY-RITHMETIC

A 5-ton crop removes 50 lbs. of P₂O₅ and 225 lbs. of K₂O.

Five tons — about 154 bales (65 lbs.)

If you want to move to this yield, and stay there, you must meet the fertility needs of your crop.

Convince yourself. Try our alfalfa fertilizer on all or just part of your field. Come in and discuss a complete program with us.

Congress Says New TV Sets Must Pull All 82 Channels

By JOSEPH E. MOHABAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—American television passed another milestone Friday.

Any video set made in this country from now on must be capable of receiving 82—instead of 12—television channels.

The result, as time goes by, should be more stations, more program variety, and better television reception throughout the United States.

Congress passed the all-channel television set requirement in 1962 and made it effective Friday to give the industry time to adapt itself to the new law.

INCLUDES IMPORTS

It also applies to any sets imported into this country.

Most television sets on the market today are equipped to receive only the 12 very high frequency channels from 2 through 13.

But television broadcasting, says the Federal Communications Commission—which originally asked Congress for the all-channel receiver law—has outgrown those channels.

Ready to accommodate the overflow are 70 ultra-high-frequency channels. More than 100 UHF stations are operating today, but many television owners are not familiar with them because their sets are equipped for only VHF reception.

LIMITED SERVICE

The 12 VHF channels can accommodate no more than 650 television stations. Thus, while some larger cities have several such stations, many are limited by FCC allocations to two or fewer. And some cities have none.

But the 70 UHF channels can accommodate up to 3,000 new stations, promising more communities a chance of having their own stations and offering viewers a greater choice of programs.

The FCC points out that the new law does not require owners of VHF sets to buy new receivers.

MAY ADD CONVERTER

Viewers have several options if they wish to take immediate advantage of the UHF stations in their areas. They may buy one of the new all-channel sets now on the market. They may have a UHF tuner installed in their VHF set.

They may add a UHF converter to their VHF set. Or they may install what is known as a strip tuner in their present set, allowing them to tune in on one or more available UHF channels.

With all-channel reception mandatory, the FCC said, "TV broadcasting will find ample room in UHF to grow on a national basis."

"The end result will be more TV stations, greater TV program variety, and better local TV reception throughout the land."

SOME OLDTIME TV PROGRAMS ARE BOUNCED

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—To most mortals, spring is a joyous time but 'tis not so to many workers of the television vineyards. This is when the wine turns sour.

Some of the casualties are veterans that have flourished, withered and died. Most are one-season entries doomed by malnutrition of ratings. Many of the passings went unlamented. But a few series had stout champions who bombarded the networks with protests, always to no avail.

The Jerry Lewis Show, "100 Grand," "Harry's Girls" and "Glynis" were mercifully canceled early in the season. To the others, playing out their final weeks, this ode of farewell is directed. The networks assure that these cancellations are final and irrevocable, subject to change without notice.

OUT THEY GO

The knell has struck for "11th Hour."

And, "Channing" climbs up the ivory tower.

"Jamie McPheeters" travels over,

"Temple Houston" goes out to clover.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" will be no more.

"Espionage" and "Great Adventure" head for the door.

The last dead end faces "Route 66."

"The Price Is Right" has run out of tricks.

It's curtains for Edie Adams and Sid Caesar.

"The Fight of the Week" has been hit in the beeper.

"East Side, West Side" won't be around the town.

DOWN THEY COME

Garry Moore and Richard Boone have come tumbling down.

Too bad that "Grindl" soon will be unemployed.

The fate of "Twilight Zone" is consigned to the void.

Judy, Judy, Judy—it's sad to see her go.

It's well-earned retirement for the Danny Thomas show.

"77 Sunset Strip" faces eviction.

The title "Breaking Point" becomes an apt prediction.

Joey Bishop's dumped "Show of the Week" closed.

Phil Silvers' bumped, "The Lieutenant" deposed.

All are swept away, rating's the reason.

84,297 Free Votes In Texas Primary

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A total of 84,297 Texans are entitled to take advantage today of the first free voting since 1902.

The state comptroller has received reports that this is the total number of free registration certificates—in the form of poll tax receipts marked "poll tax not paid"—issued during a special registration period Feb. 5-March 6.

The free certificates are necessary because Texas still requires payment of the poll tax to qualify voters in state and local elections. The requirement was banned for federal elections by ratification in January of a federal poll tax ban amendment.

The free certificates allow voting in the Saturday primary on congressmen, congressmen-at-large and U.S. senator.

U. S. - CANADA FAIL TO EASE MARKET ISSUE

OTTAWA (AP)—Proposals for a limited U.S.-Canadian common market failed to make headway at a cabinet-level review of joint economic problems.

U.S. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon and Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin, leader of their delegations for the talks Wednesday and Thursday, said mutual understanding of economic problems had improved but they reported no major agreements on unresolved problems.

Dillon added that the idea of a duty-free flow of goods between the two countries had not been discussed in any detail.

Although each country is the other's largest customer, proposals to establish a single U.S.-Canadian market remain tangled in politics. U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball broached the idea in a speech last week, but his suggestion was criticized here as a threat to Canadian economic independence.

The talks also failed to achieve any agreement on a controversial Canadian tariff incentive program to encourage production of auto parts in Canada.

NURSE ADVISES BEN CASEY ON FINE POINTS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If "Ben Casey" had it to do all over again, chances are that the dedicated doctor would pick a specialty other than neurosurgery.

"Neurosurgery is pretty self-limiting," explained the ABC series' technical advisor.

The technical advisor, incidentally, is not a neurosurgeon, but a registered nurse, Alice Rodriguez, who inherited the job when Dr. Max Warner, the brain surgeon who first worked on the show, was called into the Navy. She talks like a real doctor after all her association with medical problems.

SHE'S WATCHDOG

Mrs. Rodriguez' job, however, does not involve hunting new diseases and ailments to fit storylines. That is done by the three medical consultants who work with the script writers.

Sometimes she bandages simulated wounds. She checks out the operating room to make sure the instruments are in correct sequence. She orders supplies. Most important, perhaps, she hunts for incorrect procedures and unmedical dialogue in scripts.

The past season has been a rather traumatic one for the glowering surgeon-hero and his cohorts. ABC shifted the show from its popular Monday night spot to Wednesday nights and an hour when two popular comedy shows are shown on a rival network. "Ben Casey" dropped abruptly from its levels among the 10 top shows to—in the most recent Nielsen rating—40th place. Next season, however, it will be restored to its old spot and, hopefully, its former popularity.

TOPS FOR WEEKEND

CBS definitely plans to cancel "Made in America," its new Sunday night quiz show with millionaires for contestants as soon as a replacement can be arranged.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Today—Kentucky Derby, CBS, 5-6 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Time) running of the annual classic.

Sunday—Golf "Tournament of Champions," NBC, 4-5:30—final holes in the Las Vegas match; "Incident on Wilson Street," NBC, 10-11, documentary on children living in an underprivileged neighborhood.

IKE AIDE ON LODGE WAGON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former aide of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's has joined the inner circle of Henry Cabot Lodge supporters and is whipping up speech material for when—and if—the ambassador formally enters the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Retired Army Maj. Gen. C. T. Lanham, who served Eisenhower as a press officer in Europe, is described as pinpointing potential issues and drafting position papers in the event Lodge resigns as envoy to South Viet Nam and begins campaigning.

Robert R. Mullen, Washington public relations man coordinating the Draft Lodge for Presidential Committee, disclosed Lanham's task Thursday night but said he didn't know when Lodge may return—and doesn't see any rush.

"When we need him we'll have him; right now we don't need him," said Mullen. "He's doing fine without campaigning."

COLD WEATHER TOO MUCH FOR CATS FRIDAY

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The day was dark and cold at the start of the eighth annual Quantico Relays, and it was a whole lot colder and darker at the finish — especially for Villanova's Wildcats.

Last year, the Wildcats came here from a disappointing showing in the Penn Relays but eased some of the pain by winning the distance and sprint medley relays.

Villanova tied a Penn Relays record last weekend by winning four events and expected big things here.

But, in a complete reversal of form, the Wildcats were beaten by Georgetown in both the distance medley and four-mile relays, which they won at Philadelphia, and in the sprint medley by North Carolina College.

RAIN SLOWS TRACK
Despite 53-degree weather and a track that was slow because of three days of rain, two meet records were set — by Jay Luck of the New Haven Track Club in the 440-yard hurdles and by Jim Keefe of Central Connecticut State in the 10,000-meter run.

Luck, former Yale captain, was clocked in 51.5, two-tenths of a second faster than the record set last year by John Bethea of Morgan State.

Keefe clipped four seconds off the meet mark in the 10,000-meter run, which he covered in 30:01.2, a full minute ahead of defending champion Raymond Jackson of Maryland State. The old record of 30:05.2 was set two years ago by Pete McArdle of the New York A.C.

PULL YOUR END
BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — The telephone company hardly was prepared for this complaint: "My telephone cord is too long," a subscriber reported to the Southern Bell office. "Could you pull your end in about two feet?"

NAMED MAT CAPTAIN
BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Harley Ferguson, runnerup for the Eastern Intercollegiate Association 157-pound wrestling title, will captain the Lehigh University matmen next season. He's from Richmond, Ky.

YES INDEED
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — University of Miami new head football coach Charlie Tate will install the "Flip Flop" offense next fall.

Tate said this causes rival coaches to "flip" and their defenses to "flop."

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren Giles believes the baseball as played in his league is superior to that of the American League because his "club owners are more dedicated than those in the American League."

Doctor Directs Nurses' Choir

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The chorus at the Iowa Methodist Hospital nursing school in Des Moines has as its conductor Dr. Laverne Wintermeyer, who was enjoying a successful musical career when he decided to be a doctor.

He interned at Iowa Methodist and although he is in private practice now he likes to keep up his music by directing the nurses' chorus.

Candy Makers Lag In Consumption

BERNE, Switzerland (AP) — While the Swiss are world-renowned as producers of fine chocolates, they lag far behind the British and Americans when it comes to eating sweets. Figures indicate that per capita consumption of candy per week is higher in England, at 225 grams, than in all other European nations. Americans consume 140 grams weekly, Danes, 115 gram and the Swiss? A mere 90 grams weekly.

New Car Designs Update Rail Trains

NEW YORK (AP) — Revolutionary advances are not limited to the space industry alone, according to Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute. Recent advances in railway car design, including multilevel rack cars for automobiles, double-size hopper cars, stainless steel tank cars, are helping to put the railroad freight business back on the track, the magazine reports.

Borough Moves Parking Meter

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A motorist parked at a two-hour meter in downtown Raleigh, dropped his dime in the slot and went about his business. Returning two hours later he found the meter gone, the curb painted yellow, a loading zone sign posted and a $5 parking ticket on his car's windshield. The motorist took the story to city hall. All was excused this time.

Hoffa Seeking Revenge Against Star Witness

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa reportedly is trying to strike back at a former pal and associate who testified against him. A source close to Hoffa said the groundwork is being laid for possible trusteeship action to seize the Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters local of Edward G. Partin, who turned star government witness in Hoffa's conviction in February on jury-tampering charges.

The stocky Teamster chief sat white-faced with anger when Partin showed up as a surprise witness in Chattanooga, Tenn., to testify that he heard Hoffa offer up to $20,000 to bribe a juror in a previous federal case.

FIRST CONVICTION

His testimony led to the government's first conviction of Hoffa in several attempts. Hoffa drew an eight-year sentence, which he is appealing.

Since then Hoffa's troubles have snowballed. He now is on trial in Chicago for conspiracy to defraud the union's pension funds. He also faces a high-level internal dispute over payment of his huge legal fees.

Partin, business agent of Baton Rouge Local 5, is charged with embezzling union funds in an indictment dating from before he turned against Hoffa.

A high Teamsters official confirmed that Partin's activities are being investigated by top-echelon union representatives.

PLAN TRUSTEESHIP

"There was a meeting with Murray W. Miller in Baton Rouge last week in an investigation that may be a preliminary to establishment of a trusteeship," the official said.

Miller, Dallas, Tex., is an international vice president and member of the Teamsters' ruling 15-man executive board.

The high Teamsters source said a trusteeship over Partin's local "would call for the international revoking temporarily the charter of the local, making it a ward of the international until its affairs are straightened out."

Such action would freeze out present officers, including Partin.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

It is uncertain whether Hoffa can succeed in wresting Partin's local from him. He has the authority to put a local under trusteeship. But the local can appeal to the executive board, which recently has shown signs of restiveness. Some of its members rebelled last week against continued union payment of Hoffa's lawyers' bills after the Teamsters general counsel warned that he believed the practice was illegal.

Hoffa reportedly is looking for an outside legal expert in an attempt to reverse the opinion. Hoffa's legal bills are estimated to run in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Maureen O'Sullivan Of Movies Becomes Regular On Popular NBC Show "Today"

"Hugh Downs gives me helpful tips," says Maureen O'Sullivan, new regular member of the "Today" cast. Maureen confesses that, "On the first few programs, I was so scared I tried too hard."

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

It's been well over a year since "Today" — NBC's flourishing morning perennial watched by the likes of you, me and the powers — that — be — in Washington — asked Maureen O'Sullivan to become the show's best girl.

Jerry Madden of NBC News said, "Producer Al Morgan and I feel her wide range of interests and varied experience in all phases of the entertainment field will certainly contribute greatly to the many features presented throughout the year on 'Today.'"

Maureen kept saying, "no." Until just lately, that is.

HARD TO GET

Not that she was playing hard to get. She WAS hard to get, what with being solidly signed to the hit comedy "Never Too Late," opposite Paul

Ford that made her the toast of Broadway the past year — and — a — half (and which she could continue forever, if such was her wish).

But Maureen and "Today" are a steady combination. "It's not without misgiving that I made the decision," smiles the gentle redhead who weighs the same — and looks the same — as when she played Jane to Johnny Weissmuller's Tarzan (or in "The Barrets of Wimpole St." or any other of her 80 films).

"KEEP GOING"

"One must keep growing. One must keep going. I feel there's something I can do on 'Today' from the woman's point of view. I have great respect for the program."

"Wanting better hours to be with my children helped tip the balance, too."

"But you know what? Going on just once a week (her only day off from the play until now) has scared me to death instead of helping me adjust. Hugh Downs has been so wonderful, though, trying to give me tips. Jack Lescoulie, too."

NATURAL HUMOR

They say the television camera doesn't lie. But it's going to have to prove its subtlety to capture Maureen. She's as sensitive as a crystal breeze chime.

Her sense of responsibility to others gives her something akin to the kind of public strength for which the world pays homage to Jacqueline Kennedy. It enabled her to discuss with Hugh Downs on the program details of the plane crash which five years ago killed her eldest son, Michael. Yet a few minutes after the program's end she couldn't even mention his name without misting over.

HUSBAND EXPIRED

"People ask why I work."

She is genuinely puzzled. Her husband, director-writer John Farrow, to whom she was married for 26 years, died last year of a heart attack.

"I have six children to bring up. I have to earn money to do it. I am now mother, father and breadwinner. No, there was no huge estate . . . but luckily I believe in keeping busy anyway."

"I feel we're all on this earth to accomplish something, to help each other. They say we use only a fraction of our potential. I'd like to increase mine about 25 per cent."

A DAY ON "TODAY"

Maureen's "Today" day starts with coffee and toast at 4:30 a.m. By 5:15 she's at the RCA building for makeup (so faint, by the way, you'd not be jarred by it on the street). Next comes a run-through of her commercials and a briefing on any changes a major news break might make in format.

"No, after years in films I don't mind early morning starts. Furthermore, it's going to mean more hours with my kids." "Kids" — when she says it — is a blend of wistfulness and elegance for Roscommon-born Maureen speaks with the Dublin intonation that is considered the English language at its purest.

"Our house is in westport,

Connecticut, where the younger children go to public school. Because of the hours of the play I've also had to have an apartment in New York."

"And though I was a housewife for 12 years while the children were small I didn't cook until this past year. Mia and I are learning together."

The breeze changes. A smile chimes lightly over her face. "We say our cooking method must be sort of Zen. You know, we try to figure if we were a steak how long would it take to us to get cooked. So far the steaks have been fine."

SON IS ARTIST

Mia Farrow, whom her mother describes as "a lovely, intelligent girl," is the only one of the brood thus far to show an interest in show business.

Twenty-year-old Patrick has done some commercial art of which she is proud. For the others "too soon to tell . . . and so hard for a parent to know how to help. What's right for one child might be wrong for another. . . . I think though that if you are dedicated to growing in your own right it's bound to help the children."

This "Today's" girl is really quite a gal.

COLD WEATHER TOO MUCH FOR CATS FRIDAY

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The day was dark and cold at the start of the eighth annual Quantico Relays, and it was a whole lot colder and darker at the finish — especially for Villanova's Wildcats.

Last year, the Wildcats came here from a disappointing showing in the Penn Relays but eased some of the pain by winning the distance and sprint medley relays.

Villanova tied a Penn Relays record last weekend by winning four events and expected big things here.

But, in a complete reversal of form, the Wildcats were beaten by Georgetown in both the distance medley and four-mile relays, which they won at Philadelphia, and in the sprint medley by North Carolina College.

RAIN SLOWS TRACK

Despite 53-degree weather and a track that was slow because of three days of rain, two meet records were set — by Jay Luck of the New Haven Track Club in the 440-yard hurdles and by Jim Keefe of Central Connecticut State in the 10,000-meter run.

Luck, former Yale captain, was clocked in 51.5, two-tenths of a second faster than the record set last year by John Bethea of Morgan State.

Keefe clipped four seconds off the meet mark in the 10,000-meter run, which he covered in 30:01.2, a full minute ahead of defending champion Raymond Jackson of Maryland State. The old record of 30:05.2 was set two years ago by Pete McArdle of the New York A.C.

PULL YOUR END

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — The telephone company hardly was prepared for this complaint:

"My telephone cord is too long," a subscriber reported to the Southern Bell office. "Could you pull your end in about two feet?"

NAMED MAT CAPTAIN

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Harley Ferguson, runnerup for the Eastern Intercollegiate Association 157-pound wrestling title, will captain the Lehigh University matmen next season. He's from Richmond, Ky.

YES INDEED

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — University of Miami head football coach Charlie Tate will install the "Flip Flop" offense next fall.

Tate said this causes rival coaches to "flip" and their defenses to "flop."

Doctor Directs Nurses' Choir

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The chorus at the Iowa Methodist Hospital nursing school in Des Moines has as its conductor Dr. Laverne Wintermeyer, who was enjoying a successful musical career when he decided to be a doctor.

He interned at Iowa Methodist and although he is in private practice now he likes to keep up his music by directing the nurses' chorus.

Candy Makers Lag In Consumption

BERNE, Switzerland (AP) — While the Swiss are world-renowned as producers of fine chocolates, they lag far behind the British and Americans when it comes to eating sweets. Figures indicate that per capita consumption of candy per week is higher in England, at 225 grams, than in all other European nations. Americans consume 140 grams weekly, Danes, 115 gram and the Swiss? A mere 90 grams weekly.

New Car Designs Update Rail Trains

NEW YORK (AP) — Revolutionary advances are not limited to the space industry alone, according to Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute. Recent advances in railway car design, including multilevel rack cars for automobiles, double-size hopper cars, stainless steel tank cars, are helping to put the railroad freight business back on the track, the magazine reports.

"A new 50-car train," says Steelways, "will replace 128 conventional smaller capacity cars and be unloaded faster."

Borough Moves Parking Meter

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A motorist parked at a two-hour meter in downtown Raleigh, dropped his dime in the slot and went about his business.

Returning two hours later he found the meter gone, the curb painted yellow, a loading zone sign posted and a $5 parking ticket on his car's windshield.

The motorist took the story to city hall. All was excused this time.

LONG WAIT FOR TIE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The Colorado College Tigers played 203 league games in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, going back to 1951, before playing their first tie this season. They skated to a 5-5, deadlock with Michigan State.

Hoffa Seeking Revenge Against Star Witness

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa reportedly is trying to strike back at a former pal and associate who testified against him.

A source close to Hoffa said the groundwork is being laid for possible trusteeship action to seize the Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters local of Edward G. Partin, who turned star government witness in Hoffa's conviction in February on jury-tampering charges.

The stocky Teamster chief sat white-faced with anger when Partin showed up as a surprise witness in Chattanooga, Tenn., to testify that he heard Hoffa offer up to $20,000 to bribe a juror in a previous federal case.

FIRST CONVICTION

His testimony led to the government's first conviction of Hoffa in several attempts. Hoffa drew an eight-year sentence, which he is appealing.

Since then Hoffa's troubles have snowballed. He now is on trial in Chicago for conspiracy to defraud the union's pension funds. He also faces a high-level internal dispute over payment of his huge legal fees.

Partin, business agent of Baton Rouge Local 5, is charged with embezzling union funds in an indictment dating from before he turned against Hoffa.

A high Teamsters official confirmed that Partin's activities are being investigated by top-level union representatives.

PLAN TRUSTEESHIP

"There was a meeting with Murray W. Miller in Baton Rouge last week in an investigation that may be a preliminary to establishment of a trusteeship," the official said.

Miller, Dallas, Tex., is an international vice president and member of the Teamsters' ruling 15-man executive board.

The high Teamsters source said a trusteeship over Partin's local "would call for the international revoking temporarily the charter of the local, making it a ward of the international until its affairs are straightened out."

Such action would freeze out present officers, including Partin.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

It is uncertain whether Hoffa can succeed in wresting Partin's local from him. He has the authority to put a local under trusteeship. But the local can appeal to the executive board, which recently has shown signs of restiveness. Some of its members rebelled last week against continued union payment of Hoffa's lawyers' bills after the Teamsters general counsel warned that he believed the practice was illegal.

Hoffa reportedly is looking for an outside legal expert in an attempt to reverse the opinion. Hoffa's legal bills are estimated to run in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

DAYLIGHT CHALLENGE

To eliminate the wholesale readjustments formerly required in Standard Time areas caused by Daylight Saving, NBC has again put its "dual-network tape operation" to work from now through October 24.

The station cites as an example, "A station in Georgia, a Standard Time area, which without the program repeat plan would be required to broadcast an 8 p.m. EDT New York show at 7 p.m. EST, is able to continue the program at 8 p.m. local Georgia time."

Live and film programs will be immediately recorded on television tape at NBC's Tape Central in New York, then played back one hour later to the Standard Time area.

Sports continue to be the exception along with special events programs which require simultaneous network transmission.

The network began its dual tape operation for the daylight saving season in 1958.

ACCIDENTAL REGULAR?

"No running role for students, the stories are told from the point of view of teacher or principal," said E. Jack Neuman at the outset of "Mr. Novak". . . . However, that may be changing since UCLA Freshman Tony Dow has already made three appearances.

Maureen O'Sullivan Of Movies Becomes Regular On Popular NBC Show "Today"

"Hugh Downs gives me helpful tips," says Maureen O'Sullivan, new regular member of the "Today" cast. Maureen confesses that, "On the first few programs, I was so scared I tried too hard."

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

It's been well over a year since "Today" — NBC's flourishing morning perennial watched by the likes of you, me and the powers — that — be — in Washington — asked Maureen O'Sullivan to become the show's best girl.

Jerry Madden of NBC News said, "Producer Al Morgan and I feel her wide range of interests and varied experience in all phases of the entertainment field will certainly contribute greatly to the many features presented throughout the year on 'Today.'"

Maureen kept saying, "no." Until just lately, that is.

HARD TO GET

Not that she was playing hard to get. She WAS hard to get, what with being solidly signed to the hit comedy "Never Too Late," opposite Paul

Ford that made her the toast of Broadway the past year — and — a — half (and which she could continue forever, if such was her wish).

But Maureen and "Today" are a steady combination. "It's not without misgiving that I made the decision," smiles the gentle redhead who weighs the same — and looks the same — as when she played Jane to Johnny Weissmuller's Tarzan (or in "The Barrets of Wimpole St." or any other of her 80 films).

"KEEP GOING"

"One must keep growing. One must keep going. I feel there's something I can do on 'Today' from the woman's point of view. I have great respect for the program.

"Wanting better hours to be with my children helped tip the balance, too."

"But you know what? Going on just once a week (her only day off from the play until now) has scared me to death instead of helping me adjust. Hugh Downs has been so wonderful, though, trying to give me tips. Jack Lescoulie, too."

NATURAL HUMOR

They say the television camera doesn't lie. But it's going to have to prove its subtlety to capture Maureen. She's as sensitive as a crystal breeze chime.

Her sense of responsibility to others gives her something akin to the kind of public strength for which the world pays homage to Jacqueline Kennedy. It enabled her to discuss with Hugh Downs on the program details of the plane crash which five years ago killed her eldest son, Michael. Yet a few minutes after the program's end she couldn't even mention his name without misting over.

HUSBAND EXPIRED

"People ask why I work."

She is genuinely puzzled. Her husband, director-writer John Farrow, to whom she was married for 26 years, died last year of a heart attack.

"I have six children to bring up. I have to earn money to do it. I am now mother, father and breadwinner. No, there was no huge estate . . . but luckily I believe in keeping busy anyway.

"I feel we're all on this earth to accomplish something, to help each other. They say we use only a fraction of our potential. I'd like to increase mine about 25 per cent."

A DAY ON "TODAY"

Maureen's "Today" day starts with coffee and toast at 4:30 a.m. By 5:15 she's at the RCA building for makeup (so faint, by the way, you'd not be jarred by it on the street). Next comes a run-through of her commercials and a briefing on any changes a major news break might make in format.

"No, after years in films I don't mind early morning starts. Furthermore, it's going to mean more hours with my kids." "Kids" — when she says it — is a blend of wistfulness and elegance for Roscommon-born Maureen speaks with the Dublin intonation that is considered the English language at its purest.

"Our house is in westport,

Connecticut, where the younger children go to public school. Because of the hours of the play I've also had to have an apartment in New York.

The breeze changes. A smile chimes lightly over her face. "We say our cooking method must be sort of Zen. You know, we try to figure if we were a steak how long would it take to us to get cooked. So far the steaks have been fine."

Mia Farrow, whom her mother describes as "a lovely, intelligent girl," is the only one of the brood thus far to show an interest in show business.

Twenty-year-old Patrick has done some commercial art of which she is proud. For the others "too soon to tell . . . and so hard for a parent to know how to help. What's right for one child might be wrong for another. . . . I think though that if you are dedicated to growing in your own right it's bound to help the children."

This "Today's" girl is really quite a gal.

CALL FOR HELP
ARE MAJOR JOB

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press
If you've been postponing that screened-in porch project because you can't muster up the courage to tackle it, give up and call for help, says photographer John Hugelmeyer of Riverdale, N. J., who did just that. It's better to begin the project, and get into the act later, if you must, he says, by doing some phase of the work that doesn't require professional talent.

"At first I thought I'd tackle the whole project — flooring, roof and all," says Hugelmeyer of his 16 foot by 25 foot project. "My brother, an architect, drew up plans in large scale, but the more I looked at plans, the more I realized it was too big a job for me. So I decided to get someone to build the foundation and roof, and then I'd tackle the screening myself."

PROFESSIONAL KNOWHOW
Such considerations as how to connect rafters to the house, how water must run off, how the roof should be edged, and venting convinced Hugelmeyer that the job required professional knowhow.

But, whammo, as soon as porch posts, ceiling and foundation were installed, Hugelmeyer was ready to tackle the screening in with gusto.

"That part of it was fun when I got around to it. I armed myself with aluminum wire screening, a stapling gun and some pine stock for frames. I put the screening on frames that would slide in between the posts.

GOOD, CLEAR PINE
Good clear pine is best for framing as knots will weaken the frame, he says. The screening should be started by stapling the middle of each side of the frame, pulling from the center toward those points so there will be no sags or ripples in it.

"If screening is properly put up it will be impervious to everything. Ours has withstood the barrage of chomunks, cats, other animals and two lively youngsters," he says.

SCREENED-ON VERSION
Many people make glass frames for winter use of a porch, Hugelmeyer points out, and this is a great idea. But after considering that plan, he decided against it because, in his case, the concrete floor might necessitate expensive heating arrangements.

Though Hugelmeyer's original plan was to have an open covered porch, he went on from there to the screened-in version because "it is almost a necessity in any buggy area to use screens, if you'd get the maximum enjoyment out of an outdoor area, particularly at night," he says.

Anyone who has an open porch that merely needs screening could have an enclosed one by expending the little time and effort required in building frames and applying screening.

ON THE ROAD
Eighteen cities in 17 days... that's the typically touristy itinerary set for three Beverly Hillbillies; Irene Ryan, Donna Douglas and Max Baer. They've planned the act for a year.

TV Correspondent Peter Kalischer is putting his knowledge of the Far East and Southeast Asia into a book to be titled "Area of Decision." Random House will publish in January.

Former Student
Claims First Game

LOUISVILLE (AP) — No one challenges Joe Kirchdorfer's claim that he introduced basketball at St. Xavier High School in 1911. He did it the hard way. Kirchdorfer, a sophomore at the time, asked officials to adopt the game but was turned down.

He then collected some classmates and played an unofficial game with Louisville Male High. The next day, Kirchdorfer was reprimanded by St. Xavier but later the school relented and hired a coach.

The score of that unofficial game was 95-4 in Male's favor. Kirchdorfer scored both baskets for the losers.

Ceiling Falls
On Judge's Head

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — Judge William Copland was holding court in Gastonia when there was a loud noise. A 10-pound piece of brightly colored ceiling came loose on Copland's head.

The judge reported a sore head, but he felt well protected. So loud was the noise that a police officer, thinking the judge had been attacked, drew his revolver before he realized what was happening.

LIGHT TOPIC?

Newsman Ray Scherer reports "When the President sweet-talked the brotherhoods into not striking, he (Lyndon Johnson) personally turned off the lights when they all left the Cabinet room."

Said another: "Washington boasts of being a world capital, but at night it is more like East Berlin."

Adds Scherer: The President says it isn't the money saved so much as the symbolism of frugality... but many people believe it is time to turn the lights back on in The Dark House at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

New Catholic Play
Set For Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — Another play concerned with high Catholic Church personalities, "Caution to the Winds," is being planned for Broadway exhibit next fall.

Central character of the drama is Cardinal Roncalli, who became Pope John XXIII. The story concerns efforts to rescue Hungarian Jews from war terrors in 1944.

"The Deputy," which concerns the role of Pope Pius XII in World War II, is currently a White Way hit.

The new play is being based on an autobiographical book by Ira Hirschmann.

Misplaced Gift
Saves Marriage

MEMPHIS (AP) — Paul Savage opening his car trunk noted a dusty package inside.

It was the beautiful brass wastebasket he had bought to give his wife for Christmas and then forgotten it. He took it home and sheepishly, handed it to his wife. She almost burst into tears of joy.

Their wedding anniversary. And she thought he had forgotten.

Judges To Choose
Best New Scripts

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Broadway producers and two professors are judging the annual National Collegiate Playwriting competition.

Michael Myerberg and Joel Schenker represent the professional theater, while the academic viewpoint is registered by Frank Davidson of City College of New York and C. Robert Kase of the University of Delaware.

Scripts in two categories, one-act and full-length, may be entered by college students. Winners are to be announced in June.

Agency Promotes Writers' Study

NEW YORK (AP) — Study grants have been set up in five institutions of higher education by the William Morris Agency to promote theatrical writing, acting and staging.

Annual awards of $1,000 each are to be made by the talent booking organization to deserving students at Mount Holyoke College, Howard University, University of North Carolina, Carnegie Institute of Technology and the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Theatrical Clerk
Saves Cash Drawer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A grocery clerk thwarted a would-be robber by yelling the first thing that came into her mind.

Mrs. Dorothy Lee Kingry, a clerk in Walkers Grocery Store, said a young gunman came in and demanded all the money in the cash register.

Mrs. Kingry said she shouted at the top of her voice: "Turn the machine gun on him, Mr. Walker."

The gunman fled without any money.

"It was the only thing I could think of," Mrs. Kingry said.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

NEWLYWEDS IN CRASH ON HONEYMOON

The honeymoon of a St. Win-ceslas, Quebec, couple was interrupted by an auto crash Sunday evening at 8 o'clock just south of the Lincoln Highway interchange of the Route 15 bypass around Gettysburg.

State police said the bridegroom, Jean Louis Cloutier, 24, and his bride were headed toward South Carolina on their honeymoon when Cloutier attempted to pass a number of cars and found David F. Reimer, 26, of Albion, N. Y., headed north. Damage was estimated at $300 to Cloutier's car which still bore the decorations from the wedding ceremony, and $400 to Reimer's vehicle. No one was injured.

DRIVERS INJURED

The accident was a number occurring on highways and on the Battlefield over the weekend in heavy traffic.

Charles R. Fowler, 30, 135 Buford Ave., was the driver injured in an accident on the Battlefield Saturday morning at 11:20.
National Park Ranger Emless Nett said Fowler lost control of his car on the Wheatfield Rd. and it smashed through the side of the bridge over Plum Run, ending up in the water. A motorist, Frederick Bennett, Hanover, took Fowler to the Warner Hospital where he was treated for cuts of the chin and above the right eye.
Fowler's car was demolished.

Robert R. Buffington, Harrisburg bread truck operator, was treated at the Warner Hospital for cuts of the face after his Holsum bread truck from Harrisburg upset three miles south of here on the Emmitsburg Rd. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Three Treated For Accident Injuries

Donald Plank, 27, R. 4, an employee of H. David Pitzer, Biglerville, was treated Saturday at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of the left arm received in a fall from a truck.

Harry Sterner, 33, Hanover R. 2, an employee of the Asplundh Tree Experts, received treatment Saturday for contusions and abrasions of the back and forehead after falling about 15 feet from a tree while working in the McKnightstown area.

town R. 2, was treated for a laceration of the right thumb inflicted while using an electric

Rice Retires As Ambassador To Netherlands

John S. Rice, West Broadway, ambassador to The Netherlands since his appointment by the late President John F. Kennedy March 13, 1961, will retire from the diplomatic service.

Rice wrote President Lyndon B. Johnson on March 5 that having reached the age of 65 he wishes to retire to private life.
He has informed Gettysburg friends that he has no plans for the future.

The Rices will entertain Senator J. W. Fulbright, of Arkansas, over the weekend in connection with the 15th anniversary of the founding of the Fulbright program for the exchange of students.

On May 14 Secretary of State
Dean Rusk will be a guest of the Rices when he attends the NATO Council of Ministers meeting at The Hague.

The Rices will return to Gettysburg in time to attend the graduation from Gettysburg College of their daughter, Ellen.
Ambassador Rice, long active in the Pennsylvania Democratic party, was frequently mentioned as a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in Pennsylvania but on each occasion he declined any such aspiration. He has served in the state Senate and was a onetime candidate for governor of the state.

Ambassador Rice was president of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College when he was appointed to the foreign post.

Dr. S. Stevens Lauds Covered Span Society

"Largely due to the efforts of your society it is easier today to save a covered bridge than it was five years ago," Dr. S. S.
Stevens, state historian, told the Theodore Burr Covered Bridge Society at its fifth annual spring meeting at Hickory Bridge Farm near Orttanna, Saturday afternoon.

At the same time he warned
"You cannot wait until the bulldozers move in. The Pennsylvania Department of Highways highly cooperative in assisting the preservation of these bridges
— but it cannot do the job alone.
There must be local body township supervisors or county commissioners who will take over the bridge. Otherwise the highway department's hands are tied.
I want all of you to keep track of what is going on, check your local highway superintendent. The you you will learn in plenty."

BLOSSOM DAY CROWD BREAKS PRIOR RECORDS

The largest crowd in the history of Apple Blossom Sunday jammed the county's fruit belt Sunday afternoon to see blossoms and witness the crowning of a new apple blossom queen.

Ralph Sandoe, general chairman, said, "It was the biggest crowd we've ever had." Estimate of previous Apple Blossom Sunday crowds were as high as 65,000 persons, and Sandoe said, "This year topped them all." Many persons reported that "the crowd was larger than Saturday night at the fair."

2,000 SEE CROWNING

Mrs. Richard Trostel, queen chairman, said that more than 2,000 persons packed the horse show arena at South Mountain Fairgrounds to see Miss Martha McDannell accept the crown from last year's queen, Mrs. Sonja Beamer Brough. The queen was attended by 11 blossom princesses. Donald B. Hudson was master of ceremonies and the Biglerville High School band presented a 45-minute concert prior to the crowning.

Over 3,000 chicken barbecue dinners were served by the pol-itrymen's association from 11 to o'clock when the supply was exhausted. Mrs. Grace Garretson dessert chairman, said that over 100 apple desserts were provided by volunteer contributors and that several thousand persons were served by 5 o'clock. She was assisted in arranging the smorgasbord by Mrs. Olive Bau-bour and Mrs. Frederic E. Gries-ler, Jr.

REPORT HEAVY TRAFFIC

John Pitzer, co-chairman of the juice committee, reported that over 500 gallons of apple juice and 100 bushels of apples were served at six hospitality booths along Apple Blossom Trail. State police said that traffic was bungled to bumper on rural road through the afternoon, and the several hundred automobiles were turned away at the fairground after all available parking space was filled.

Keels Over After He Pleads Guilty

Dean Ellis, 35, Gettysburg R.
1, fell unconscious Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock after pleading guilty to a surety of the peace charge before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Cumberland Twp.

Ellis, who had been held in jail overnight on the charge, seemed to be in normal health during the hearing. Justice Whitman had just turned to his typewriter to fill out the forms for the guilty plea after assessing a fine of $10 and costs, when Ellis fell. He was removed to the Warner Hospital for treatment and then returned home.

Former Student Claims First Game

LOUISVILLE (AP) — No one challenges Joe Kirchdorfer's claim that he introduced basketball at St. Xavier High School in 1911. He did it the hard way.
Kirchdorfer, a sophomore at the time, asked officials to adopt the game but was turned down.

He then collected some classmates and played an unofficial game with Louisville Male High.
The next day, Kirchdorfer was reprimanded by St. Xavier but later the school relented and hired a coach.

The score of that unofficial game was 95-4 in Male's favor.
Kirchdorfer scored both baskets for the losers.

Ceiling Falls On Judge's Head

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — Judge William Copland was holding court in Gastonia when there was a loud noise. A 10-pound piece of brightly colored ceiling came loose on Copland's head.

The judge reported a sore head, but he felt well protected.
So loud was the noise that a police officer, thinking the judge had been attacked, drew his revolver before he realized what was happening.

ON THE ROAD

Eighteen cities in 17 days... that's the typically touristy itinerary set for three Beverly Hillbillies: Irene Ryan, Donna
Douglas and Max Baer. They've planned the act for a year.

TV Correspondent Peter Kalischer is putting his knowledge of the Far East and Southeast Asia into a book to be titled "Area of Decision." Random
House will publish in January.

LIGHT TOPIC?

Newsman Ray Scherer reports "When the President sweet-talked the brotherhoods into not striking, he (Lyndon Johnson) personally turned off the lights when they all left the Cabinet room."

Said another: "Washington boasts of being a world capital, but at night it is more like East Berlin."

Adds Scherer: The President says it isn't the money saved so much as the symbolism of frugality... but many people believe it is time to turn the lights back on in The Dark House at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

"The Deputy," which concerns the role of Pope Pius XII in World War II, is currently a White Way hit.

The new play is being based on an autobiographical book by Ira Hirschmann.

Misplaced Gift Saves Marriage

MEMPHIS (AP) — Paul Savage opening his car trunk noted a dusty package inside.

It was the beautiful brass wastebasket he had bought to give his wife for Christmas and then forgotten it. He took it home and sheepishly handed it to his

Theatrical Clerk Saves Cash Drawer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —
A grocery clerk thwarted a would-be robber by yelling the first thing that came into her mind.

Mrs. Dorothy Lee Kingry, a clerk in Walkers Grocery Store, said a young gunman came in and demanded all the money in the cash register.

Mrs. Kingry said she shouted at the top of her voice: "Turn the machine gun on him, Mr.
Walker."

The gunman fled without any money.

"It was the only thing I could think of," Mrs. Kingry said.
